Each star must have its setting;
Each dream a stern awakening;
And nights must pass and days must pass
But stars and dreams and nights and days return
When clouds of passion all have passed away.

FOREWORD

IF the 1924 Quips & Cranks has succeeded in portraying a faithful delineation of the life of Davidson---if it has expressed the strength of the Spirit of that life---if through the simplicity of its plan it has created for itself the right to live as a thing of beauty, not for a generation but for the future, then it has fulfilled its mission.

*The silence cool of cloisters;
The calm of peace with God.*

*I heard the song of leaves in spring,
The whisper of the wind;
I felt the majesty of winding tree clad roads.*

*And here were many books where in the past
The present sought a foothold and a base
To build their golden domes and minarets.*

*A perfume lingers here that will not fade
And in these columns faith and hope and love
With loyalty abide, the creed of Christian men.*

*Now it is gone, this bleeding, burning heart
Consumed in fire, as Salamanders were.
As Salamanders too, it will arise
A rainbow future from an ashen past.*

*Here science wrought the fabric of her gems.
Here was the seat of wondrous chemistry.*

*Four years we passed beside the flowing well,
Four years beneath the shadow of these trees;
Four times we saw shy fall to winter yield,
And winter slip away before the spring.*

*Here scholars lived and shelved their dusty books,
Not dirty and dog eared, but clean within
And all the wear without. Here scholars dwell;
Not bookish men, but students of the world.*

Classes

W. H. WATSEY

JOHN HENRY DAVIS, JR.

"Bevo"

WAUCHULA, FLA.

B.S., M.A.

Honor Roll, 2 years; Sigma Upsilon; Pandemic; Polity Club, Secretary and Treasurer, '22-'23; President, '23-'24; Aesculapian Club; Assistant in Biology and Political Science; Class Football; Dramatic Club; President, Salesmen's Club; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm"

Biology "Stud," Knockout Glee Club Advance Manager, Boxing Expert — that's "Bevo."

"Bevo" just hated to leave his Alma Mater after four years of toil—hence the trial for his M.A. His smile and ready flow of information on all subjects is welcomed by all who know him. Along with his other activities he has placed his name on the Honor Roll. This evidence of ability coupled with "Bevo's" personality will assure him a happy and fruitful future.

WILLIAM HIRAM SHARPE

"Hiram"

DE FUNIAK SPRINGS, FLA.

A.B., M.A.

Sigma Upsilon; Eumenean; Reporters' Club; International Relations Club; Ministerial Band; Assistants' Club; Golden Quill; Library Assistant, '20-'24; Honor Roll, '23-'24; Punctuality Roll, '21-'22; Bible Assistant, '22-'23; Treasurer, Eumenean Society, '22-'23; Theta Upsilon Omega.

"I would make reason my guide"

This year completes Hiram's fifth and last year at Davidson. He will be among those who will be awarded the M.A. degree when graduation comes.

Hiram's work in all directions while he was here made a place for him that would have been hard to fill, and when he leaves for good, this time, will not be filled next year. His amiability won for him friends who will certainly miss him when college opens next fall, and who know that he will be a true Davidson man in the world.

FRANCIS CECIL THAMES

"Izzie"

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

A.B., M.A.

Phi Beta Kappa; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Honor Roll; Student Council; Assistant in Mathematics and Chemistry; Metrophilian; Aesculapian Club.

"I came, I saw, and then I came again"

"Izzie" is one that has stuck to Davidson for the fifth year, and goes away with an M.A. degree attached to his name. Besides carrying his course here he has been teaching in the public schools, and enlightening the younger generation. His brains and ability won for him the coveted Phi Beta Kappa key, and he richly deserved it. We haven't seen much of "Izzie" during this year just past, but when he finishes we expect to hear of big things done by him.

JOSEPH ROGERS WALKER

"Joe"

ANDALUSIA, ARK.

M.A.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Sigma Upsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa.

*"W'orth, courage, honor, these indeed,
Your sustenance and birthright are."*

Joe is another man who could not resist the call of his Alma Mater, and therefore returned to seek an M.A. He has seen Davidson in that period not so far past which we are wont to call "them good ole days."

Although men who return to school are prone to inactivity concerning student affairs, Joe is an exception. He is respected and liked by all who come in contact with him, and '24 rejoices in the companionship which they have experienced with Joe.

Class History

event of the year was the Soph Banquet. The success of this was largely due to the fine work of our president.

Beginning our Junior year with a class greatly diminished in numbers, we began to realize some of the responsibilities resting on our shoulders. Although small in number, we found that the spirit of the class had increased. Elias Faison was elected to direct the activities of the class for this year, with J. I. Smith, Vice-President; R. R. Jones, Secretary-Treasurer; D. S. Phlegar, Historian; W. F. Galloway, Poet.

Two things are outstanding in our Junior year. The abolition of hazing and Junior Speaking. To those who follow us we offer the warning that they'll have to go some to beat the "Black Cat Cabaret."

For a leader of the activities of the Senior Class no finer person could have been chosen than Randolph R. Jones, of El Paso, Texas. "Alki" has so far proved himself a marvelous executive, and is always on the job when '24 is concerned. The other officers for the Senior year are as follows: L. D. Elkins, Vice-President; J. L. McLean, Secretary-Treasurer; O. J. Allison, Historian; W. F. Galloway, Poet.

With but half of the year gone, there would seem to be many momentous things to yet be recorded in the history of '24. That which will be most outstanding in our memory would seem to be the winning of the Class Basketball Championship, and then the "feeds" which we have held from time to time.

E. S. FAISON

To record the activities of a class for the entire four years of its existence in college is no easy task. The history of '24 in detail could only be written in volumes of great magnanimity, but here we shall only mention the most outstanding facts concerning our class.

In September, 1920, we gathered from the four corners of the globe 188 strong. As Freshmen we underwent the usual period of storm and stress. We were apt in learning what it meant to "horse" an upper-classman. In January a meeting was called for the purpose of electing officers. The result of the final ballot was as follows: Mason D. Field, of Atlanta, President; A. M. Hillhouse, of Waynesboro, Ga., Vice-President; George R. Dupuy, of Red Springs, N. C., Secretary-Treasurer; and O'Key J. Allison, of Winston-Salem, N. C., Historian.

Under the leadership of President Field the class soon took up its part in the life of the college. Mason proved an excellent president and directed the activities of the class splendidly.

Near the close of the Freshman year we elected officers for the following year. A. M. Hillhouse was elected as President; E. S. Faison, Vice-President; J. W. DeArmon, Secretary and Treasurer; W. Z. Bradford, Historian; and D. B. Walthall, Poet.

At the opening of college in September, 1921, the Class of '24 united to see that the Freshmen were given proper instruction in the customs of the college. Through the instrumentalities of the class the abolition of hazing was brought about, although the Class of '23 actually put this matter across. Hillhouse proved an exceptional leader of the class. The principal

A. M. HILLHOUSE

As to achievements in athletics, '24 has taken a place in the front rank. In football, Faison, Moore, Davis, Clarke, Field, Cox, Hodgson, DeArmon and Long have won the coveted D. In baseball Earl Boushee has been our only representative. On the track we are represented by McBryde, Striebach and Galloway. In basketball, Nappy Davis and Spec McConnell are representatives of '24.

In football '24 holds quite a record in that she has furnished three captains for the Red and Black Machine—Moore, Faison and Davis. In scholastic lines '24 has not been lacking. R. R. Jones broke the ice by making the Honor Roll in his Freshman year; others were quick to follow in his footsteps, namely, E. D. Brown, H. L. Currie, W. F. Galloway, D. B. Walthall, W. M. Cox, A. M. Hillhouse, J. I. Smith.

Not only along these two lines has '24 been active. In every phase of college life and all the activities of the campus '24 has been well represented, furnishing excellent leaders in the literary societies, etc.

A note of sadness creeps in as we chronicle these events, for we realize there has been so much left undone. We have done our best as a class while here under the direction of fine examples of Christian manhood, and when we shall have passed through the portals of our Alma Mater into real life we feel a surety that we shall be capable of representing Davidson in our lives and by our example always.

O. J. ALLISON.

A Few Lines to the Class

The time has come, my friends, when as of old
Young knights, untried, went forth to prove their worth.
So ye go forth to show what deeds of gold
Pulse in your heart and struggle to a birth.

The way of life is hard, but ye are men;
Remember when the tide of hope runs low,
Remember we are praying for you then;
Whenever storms assail, or tempests blow.

Seek in your hearts and ye will find the grail.
It is the truth, and service for the right.
First there your eyes, and nothing will avail
To turn you from the goal ye have in sight.

The time is short, so come, and say good-bye.
Keep ye the faith and all things will be well.
Now look; the fields of service round you lie.
Farewell. Each has his task to do. Farewell.

W. F. GALLAWAY, JR.

O'KEY JOHNSON ALLISON

"O.K."

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

A.B. II

"D" Club; Cheer Leader; Pandeinic; Glee Club; Dramatic Club; Reporters' Club; Davidsonian Staff; Monitor Senior Class; Class Historian, Senior Class; Scrub Football; Class Cheer Leader; Manager, Quips and Cranks; A. E. F. Club; "Y" Quartet;

"A man of cheerful yesterdays and confident tomorrows"

Always cheerful and ever ready to see the bright side—that's Okey. If a situation has the least humor connected with it, "Okey's" laugh can be heard ringing out in full enjoyment. It is an enviable quality—that of being able to see the humorous side of every situation, whether it be of a troublous nature or not.

"Okey" has done some excellent work with the Annual and other publications, and this coupled with his voice and position of Cheer Leader, has made him much in demand since his matriculation in 1920. The class' best wishes follow "Okey."

WILLIAM ZEIGLER BRADFORD

"Wiggs"

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

B.S.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Phi Beta Kappa; Omicron Delta Kappa; Metrophilian Literary Society; Reporters' Club; Manager Davidsonian Press Bureau; Davidsonian Staff; Secretary Metrophilian; Vice-President, President, '23; Fresh Soph Debater's Medal; Junior-Senior Debater's Medal; Class Historian, '22; Assistant Football and Basketball Manager, '23; Football Manager, '23; "D" Club; Athletic Council; Le Cercle Francais; Assistant in Physics; Gamma Sigma Epsilon.

"Young in years but in sage counsel old"

"Wiggs" unquestionably is one of the big men of his class. He is an outstanding man in literary work and quite an orator in his literary society. He is a hard worker and can always be depended upon to put a thing across once he starts on it. Despite the fact that he is always engaged in some activity outside the class room, he has never failed to be one of the best students of his class. Our Wildcat Eleven, due to the hard work and wonderful ability of Manager Bradford, has probably played the best schedule of games this season that a team has had in years. With the start that Wiggs has already acquired in life we feel sure that he will be a great credit to his Alma Mater.

ROLAND EARLE BLUE

"Peter"

RAEFORD, N. C.

B.S.

"An honest man he was"

"Peter's" name belies his character, for if there ever was a man who never showed any blue disposition, it's he. He has, in his four years here, made himself known by his smile and his refusal to loaf. With a go-get-'em streak in him, he never fails to finish anything he starts, and there's no doubt but that his ambitions in the days to come will be obtained by the same business-like methods that he has used in college.

EDWARD EARLE BOUSHEE

"Bush"

WILMINGTON, N. C.

B.S. I

Phi Gamma Delta; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Pi; Sigma; "D" Club; Class Baseball, '21; Varsity Baseball, '22-'23-'24; Captain Varsity Baseball, '24; Class Basketball, '22-'23-'24; Executive Committee Athletic Association; Spanish Club.

"I will a round unvarnished tale deliver of my whole course of love."

Behold a lad with perfect control over the old horsehide and the elusive feminine heart! It's no long story to explain "Bush's" winning ways—simply a heart of gold and an ability to do things. Three years of Varsity baseball, ending with a captaincy in his Senior year, have marked him as one of the best southpaws Davidson has seen in many years. There's nothing flashy or spectacular about this Wildcat, but he does love to turn back such outfits as "Trinity's Wonder Boys." Earl is one of those few who combine hard study with athletics and make a success of both. Hard luck will have no effect on him when he bucks against the world.

CHARLES VICTOR BROWN, JR.

"Vic"

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

B.S. I

Beta Theta Pi; Glee Club, 4 years; Manager Glee Club; Davidsonian Reporters' Club; Student Council; Dramatic Club; Sigma Pi Sigma; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

"Attempt the end and never stand to doubt"

"Vic's" tenor merely adds to his popularity. His other qualities make him liked even if he does love to extract the shickels from other men's pocketbooks. No, he's not a pickpocket or anything of the kind. His ideal is a good business man, and he intends to be one of the best. "Vic" believes in making such things as the Glee Club come out even financially, however long the trip may be. He has the ability to put across things, and that goes a long way.

EDWARD DOUGLAS BROWN

"Ed"

CHINA GROVE, N. C.

A.B. I

President Philanthropic Literary Society; Forensic Council; Class Basketball; Assistant in Mathematics; Assistant in Applied Mathematics; Phi Beta Kappa.

"In mathematics he was greater Than Tycho Brahe, or Eric Pater"

Of a somewhat reserved nature, Ed probably has too many figures juggling about in his brain to think much about external happenings, for Math is his hobby. In every course pertaining to it he has become extraordinarily proficient and with this equipment, we predict a successful career for him in the world of affairs. Ed has won the warm friendship of all his classmates during his sojourn at Davidson by his quiet and unassuming manner, and will leave a place that will be hard to fill.

ROBERT HYATT BROWN

"Shorty"

ANDREWS, N. C.

B.S. I

Delta Theta Chi; Bible Class Leader; Secretary and Treasurer Philanthropic Literary Society; Treasurer Aesculapian Club; Secretary and Treasurer Forensic Council; Spanish Club; Senior Friendship Council.

*"A wise physician, skilled our wounds to heal
Is more than armies to the public weal"*

"Shorty" only applies to this young man's stature, because you don't find him lacking when you want a friend, or when you want to find qualities that you admire. When a man starts out in preparation for medicine he has the pleasant prospect of four years of the hardest work that Davidson can offer. "Shorty" has mastered this four years and come through with his flag flying, and we expect to see it flying high for many years to come.

RAY DE LA MONTANYA CARR

"Speedy"

SPARTANBURG, S. C.

A.B. I

Eumenean Literary Society; Student Volunteer Band; Ministerial Band; Sigma Pi Sigma; Junior Physics Assistant.

"To be wise and love Exceeds man's might"

"Speedy," the centaur of the campus, will no more flash past the portals of bug lab after this year. He has been one of the distinctive members of '24—this youth. There is no other man at Davidson who can boast of the "de la" attached to his title, and there is no other man on the campus who can listen to the Victrola by the year and not tire of it. We will all miss "Speedy." He is a light that shines in a corner, but is always moving so that it reaches every man. In our loss his chosen profession gains a man who travels fast and travels far to success.

DONALD JAMES CHIPMAN

"Chip"

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

"Thou, Julia, thou hast metamorphosed me; Made me neglect my studies, lose my time"

He may be just a "chip," but that chip combines those qualities that make him one of the best liked men on Davidson's campus. "Chip" has a perpetual smile that makes everyone forget their grouch when he comes around, and his ready wit keeps them in throes of laughter. Although the class room interests him but little, this Annual is evidence of what he can do if he wishes. You'll find a mighty soft spot in this boy's heart for the ladies, even if he does have to be a man of iron to protect himself from the snares of many of them. With the ladies voting, who knows but our "Chip" will some day be President of the U. S.?

WARREN MURDOCK COX, JR.

MOBILE, ALA.

B.S. I

Kappa Alpha; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Varsity Football, '23-'24; "D" Club; Student Council, '21-'22; Fresh-Soph Declaimer's and Debater's Medals; Spanish Assistant; President Pandemic Literary Society; Intercollegiate Debater; Phi Beta Kappa.

"His not enough to speak, but to speak true"

Success for Warren has been spelled with a sum total of labor and service. From the first day on the Hill he has been hard at work in an effort, not only to accomplish his own purpose, but to make Davidson a better place in which to live. Few phases of college activity have escaped him, and in each of them he has shown his ability to excel. Whether in literary, scientific or athletic lines, or in business enterprise, you will find him on top and making good.

ARTHUR DEAN CROMARTIE

"Cap'n"

VIDALIA, GA.

B.S.

Delta Theta Chi; Sigma Pi Sigma; Wrestling Team, '20-'21; Captain Wrestling Team, '22-'23; Athletic Council, '22-'23; Georgia Club; Assistant in Physics; "D" Club.

"Let me silent be"

Dean seems to have been born to be a wrestler. There are few twists and turns on the mat that he cannot or does not use. He's quick as a flash, and able to take care of all opportunities. Opportunities on the mat are not the only ones that he captures, however, for he makes the best of everything that comes along. When Davidson gives him to the world, she will have no cause to doubt as to his success in the big scrap of life.

WILLIAM HENRY CROMWELL

"Oliver"

FLORENCE, ALA.

A.B. II

Scabbard and Blade; Captain R. O. T. C.; Davidsonian Staff; President Alabama Club; Class Football, '21; Class Baseball, '21-'22; Pyramid Club.

*"Describe him who can—
An abridgement of all that is pleasant in man"*

"Forward March" is the favorite order of this young Napoleon when commanding his company, and it seems to be the same whenever he undertakes a task. He hails from Florence, Ala., and might be a good man to work out the Muscles Shoals project after Henry Ford and others have given it up as hopeless. The ladies evidently can't withstand his "line," for he's always seen among them. Obstacles ought not to mean much in this man's life.

JAMES WILLIAM CURDTS

"Rube"

GREENVILLE, S. C.

A.B. II

Kappa Phi; Class Baseball, '22-'23; Class Basketball, '22-'23; Class Football, '21-'22.

"On with the dance, let joy be unconfined"

In "Rube" we find a rare mixture of qualities. His outstanding ones are his happy-go-lucky nature and his everlasting love for the goddess of dance. "Rube" as a member of the Class of '24 is the senior member of the firm, Curdts, "China" Keels, "Buster" Gray & Co. We wonder what the campus will do minus this fun-making combination next year. If "Rube" keeps on, he will soon roll his eyes into some South Carolina lassie's heart, and that's the last we expect to hear of him. We'll chance the hope, however, that he misses this entanglement.

HUGH McLAURIN CURRIE

"Hugh"

WINTER HAVEN, FLA.

A.B. II

Pandemic Literary Society; Florida Club; Class Basketball; International Relations Club; Assistant in Public Speaking; Assistant in English.

"His valor and his mind Prove him superior of his kind"

Placidity and quietude. How this fellow loves them. Such characteristics are certainly worth while, though, when handled as Hugh has handled them. He makes friends in short order and holds them forever. The professors don't bother him much in any manner. Books are no worry to him. It seems that he will be there with the goods when the time comes if he continues as he has begun.

CHARLES MCFARLAND DAVIS

"Nappy"

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

B.S. I

Kappa Sigma; Omicron Delta Kappa; Varsity Football, '21-'22-'23-'24; Varsity Basketball, '21-'22-'23-'24; Captain Varsity Basketball, '24; Varsity Track Squad; Class Baseball; Member "D" Club; Captain Football, '24.

"I'll hast thou fought"

Whether on the football field or on the basketball court, the name of "Nappy" Davis sends a wave of something dissimilar to joy up and down his opponents' spinal column. He who has bucked up against this Wildcat is always quite sure that he has struck a snag. "Nappy's" work on the gridiron has been nothing short of spectacular and his ability on the basketball court led to his election as captain of the 1924 team. If he goes at life with the same vim and vitality that he has shown here, our good wishes are not necessary, but they go with him just the same.

JAMES WIRT DEARMON

"Doc"

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

B.S. I

Kappa Sigma; Scrub Football, '20-'21; Varsity Football, '22-'23; "D" Club; Scrub Basketball, '21-'22-'23; Secretary Sophomore Class; Metrophilian Literary Society.

"Taste the joy that springs from labor"

"Doc" has made himself known and recognized by his qualities as a true friend. He has made himself a popular man on the campus by his quiet and gentlemanly manner. While he doesn't overdo in the class room, he more than makes up for it on the gridiron. As a great defensive halfback he will long be remembered through his stellar work on Wildcat elevens. If he succeeds in tackling life as well as he has done in college, a bright future awaits him.

EDWARD CLINTON DOUGLAS

"Doug"

MT. ULLA, N. C.

A.B. II

"Fear to do base unworthy things is valor"

"Doug" doesn't merely amble around when he starts to do a thing. He is full of perseverance and stickability, and those two traits usually get results. He never shirks his duty in any kind of work, for shirking was left out of his makeup altogether. He has hosts of friends here on the campus, and no one will find a truer friend than this. With all the makings of a man in him, we bid him farewell as a true "Davidson man."

GEORGE RUFFIN DUPUY

"Dupe"

RED SPRINGS, N. C.

B.S.

Kappa Alpha; Class Secretary and Treasurer, '20-'21; Band, '21-'22-'23-'24; Director of Band, '22; Glee Club; Spanish Club; Class Baseball, '22.

"How now, my love, why is thy cheek so pale?"

"Dupe" possesses to a wonderful degree that ability which enables a man to do almost anything, and do it well. Some say his determined will accounts for this fact, while others ascribe it to his winning personality. "Dupe" has the combined talents of a musician and a good student—these, together with his "socialistic" nature, make him one of the most popular members of '24. He is everybody's friend and always a staunch supporter of his class. "Dupe" will be missed when he leaves Davidson, because the niche he has occupied while here will be hard to refill.

*"Titles of honor add not to his wealth,
Who is himself, an honor to his titles"*

The dictionary says versatile means turning with ease from one thing or subject to another. Liston is the embodiment of versatility in every sense of the word. He can turn from editing The Davidsonian to talking to the ladies and perform both with equal ease. He is truly a leader among his classmates and one whose opinion is respected at all times on all subjects. The class is justly proud of Liston and his achievements.

ELIAS SAMPSON FAISON
"Lias"
FAISON, N. C.
B.S.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Varsity Football, '21, '22, '23, '24; Secretary and Treasurer, Freshman Class; Vice-President Sophomore Class; Secretary-Treasurer Athletic Association; Vice-President Student Body; Student Council, '22, '23, '24; Wearer of the "D"; President Junior Class; President Athletic Association; Captain Football, '23; President Pan-Hellenic Council; Member of Omicron Delta Kappa.

"He hath a wisdom that doth guide his valor"

Elias, captain of our 1923 football team, has always been one of the staunchest upholders of the Red and Black on the gridiron and has turned many a game from defeat to victory by his superb playing on right end. He had the distinction of being the only man of his class to make a letter in his Freshman year and has always been an outstanding player, as is shown by his being unanimously elected for All-State end. He is one of the most popular men of the student body and an acknowledged leader on the campus. He is a man among men and we all know he has great success awaiting him as a doctor, or perchance a "bluebeard."

HOWARD GRIFFITH FENTON

"Jerry"

MEBANE, N. C.

A.B. II

Metrophilian Literary Society; Secretary and Treasurer of Metrophilian Literary Society; Class Baseball; Class Football; Scrub Football; Captain Company A, R. O. T. C.; Scabbard and Blade.

*"Let's banish business, banish sorrow;
To the gods belongs tomorrow"*

Captain "Jerry" is a mighty man of valor in more ways than one. It all depends on how many things he wants to do. His activities aren't limited by his abilities, because he puts across anything that may fall his lot. "Jerry's" smile covers all of his five feet six inches, and is as contagious as can be. That's why he finds the world such a fine place to live, and why he can usually convince other people the same way. He hasn't been stumped yet, and we're betting that he never will.

EDWARD FEWELL, JR.

"Ed"

ROCK HILL, S. C.

B.S. I

Beta Theta Pi; Sigma Upsilon; Eu Essayist's Medal, '19-'20; Wrestling Team, '21-'22; R. O. T. C. Rifle Team, '20-'21; Assistant Manager Baseball; Davidsonian Reporters' Club; Magazine Staff.

"Friends I have made"

"Ed" dropped out of school for one year, 1922-23, but came back to his old stamping ground to finish out a college career that has made for him numberless friends. His college duties and studies never weighed heavily on him, and his ability to put all his faculties to work and to put the best he has into everything will stand him good stead in the business world where he plans to make his mark.

MASON DILLARD FIELD
"Country"
 ATLANTA, GA.
 A.B. II

Kappa Sigma; Scrub Football, '20; Captain Freshman Football, '20; Varsity Football, '21-'22-'23; President Freshman Class, '20; Student Council; "D" Club; Vigilance Committee; Vice-President Athletic Association, '22-'23; Y. M. C. A. Court of Control; Georgia Club; Spanish Club; Treasurer "D" Club, '23-'24.

*"The rank is but the guinea stamp,
 The man's the gawd for a' that"*

A big man, ladies and gentlemen; a man inspiring confidence, is this brawny Georgian. "Biddy," or "Country," as he is known to his intimates on the campus, hides every night in his room down at the gym and is generally seen (outside of football season) traversing the paths that lead in that direction. Mason has gained no little distinction among us during his sojourn here. As Freshmen, the present Senior Class was inspired with such confidence by his calm and unruffled demeanor that it made him its first president. Then, too, for the past two years "Country" has been one of the mainstays in the line, and from the small yardage made over center this year it would seem that he played his part well.

GROVER MANEIL FORD
"Jitney"

HOKES BLUFF, ALA.
 B.S.

Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Sigma Pi Sigma; Scabard and Blade; Major R. O. T. C.; Class Football, '22-'23; Scrub Football, '22-'23; Class Basketball, '22; Pandemic Society; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Assistant in Chemistry.

"He is a soldier fit to give direction"

Ever since Jitney rattled into Davidson he has shown his ability to maintain his good speed in college life. A good scholar, speaking fluently both Chemistry and Spanish, and one who numbers his friends by his acquaintances. Among the ladies he is irresistible. He elected to wear the khaki for four years and as cadet major he has shown great possibilities of leadership. Jitney says he will try teaching, and we have no fear for his success, whether this combination of lover and soldier chooses that or some other calling.

WILLIAM FRANCIS GALLAWAY, JR.
"Gal"
 SAVANNAH, GA.
 A.B. II

Omicron Delta Kappa; Honor Roll; Sigma Upsilon; Varsity Track, 3 years; Captain Track; "D" Club; Executive Committee Athletic Association; Reporters' Club; Wearer of the Golden Quill; Spanish Club; Dramatic Club; International Relations Club; Associate Manager Press Bureau; Class Poet; Magazine Staff; Editor-in-Chief Magazine; Athletic Editor Davidsonian; Cap and Bells Staff; Assistant in English and History; Cross-Country Team; Swastika; Georgia Club; Phi Beta Kappa.

*"The lunatic, the lover, and the poet
 Are of imagination all compact"*

"Gal" runs away with the honors in almost any contest that he enters. His long legs carry him whizzing down the cinder path, and his leather lungs never fail—on the track or in the class room. It seems that he cannot expend all his effort in this one direction, however, and from his pen have flowed some meritorious verses. The honors that are listed above are enough evidence to prove his versatility.

PINCKNEY CALDWELL HENDERSON
"P. C."

CHARLOTTE, N. C.
 A.B. II
 Metrophilian Literary Society; Assistant Librarian.

"A young, and weak, and simple lover"

"P. C."—not P. C. of South Carolina, but a real North Carolina product that has matured at Davidson. P. C. is a lover of books and learning, and one of the few that never worry when exam time comes around. As a Senior, exam time meant a vacation. With his ability to force an opening wherever he wants one, we expect to see P. C. very near the top in the years to come.

WILLIAM MANRY HESTON
"Bill"
 ATLANTA, GA.
 B.S. I

Kappa Phi; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Editor-in-Chief Quips and Cranks; Art Staff Annual; Assistant Manager Baseball; Davidsonian Staff; Reporters' Club; "Y" Cabinet; International Relations Club; Wearer of the Golden Quill; Spanish Club; Georgia Club; Art Editor Cap and Bells; House Committee.

"What stronger breastplate than a heart untainted?"

"Bill" has had about as much hard luck as one man may be expected to stand. Sickness which came just at the time when he wanted most to be hard at work, forced his resignation from the position of Editor-in-Chief of the Annual. His O. D. K. key and his list of honors are silent testimony to his worth, and to the fact that Davidson students recognize that worth. Bill's one failing is the fairer sex, and he is easily pardoned for that, because very few have not that failing. With his ideas, and the confidence that all with whom he is ever associated have in him, his way to success as a banker is paved.

ALBERT MILLER HILLHOUSE
"Spoofy"
 WAYNESBORO, GA.
 A.B. II.

Pi Kappa Alpha; Phi Beta Kappa; Vice-President Freshman Class; President Sophomore Class; Vice-President Student Body; Assistant Manager Football; Secretary Eumenean Literary Society; Vice-President Eumenean; Debating Council; Intercollegiate Debater; Trinity Debater's Medal; President Student Body; Omicron Delta Kappa; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Secretary Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Student Council; Honor Roll; Athletic Council.

*"Courage never to submit or yield,
 And what is there not to be overcome"*

Georgia has given many men to Davidson, but few like "Spoofy" Hillhouse. Quiet and unassuming, but with a ready smile for everybody, he steadily climbed up the ladder of prominence. From the Vice-Presidency of his class in his Sophomore year, the Student Body, realizing his qualities of leadership, chose him as its President in his Senior year. "Spoofy" took a big hand in the literary work of the college and was one of the mainstays of the "Y" Cabinet. Davidson is loath to part with a man of his calibre, and wherever he goes he may rest assured of the good wishes of his Alma Mater.

CHARLES EDWARD HODGIN

"Hogan"

GREENSBORO, N. C.

A.B. II

Vice-President Metrophilian Literary Society; Debating Council; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Class Baseball; Class and Scrub Football; Varsity Football; Wearer of the "D"; Pi Kappa Alpha.

"And thus he bore without abuse the grand old name of gentleman"

Charlie is one of the most popular men on the campus—not because of any inflated enthusiasm, but because of the grit and the determination that he has displayed during his career at Davidson. His "D" is ample reward for the untiring and steady work on the gridiron that he has displayed. His work for only half a season warranted it, for he was unfortunate enough to have his leg broken about the time one-half the games had been played. "Small's" six feet two only add to his personality. He may be in the clouds, but he's always abreast and fighting—never behind.

GEORGE MURRAY HODGIN

"George"

RED SPRINGS, N. C.

B.S. I

Metrophilian; Class Football; Manager Class Baseball, '23; Manager Class Basketball, '23; Vigilance Committee; Scrub Football, '23.

"Life lives only in success"

George doesn't believe in working to the limit, but he does believe in using a reasonable amount of gray matter to do anything he decides to do. Whatever his method of doing things, he gets results that prove him a man of ability in all lines. He isn't quite a jack-of-all-trades, but he isn't apt to drop into a rut. His ready smile never fails to smooth over any trouble, and the world will find it hard to resist his fight to the top.

JAMES HOFFMAN

"Jim"

SURGOINSVILLE, TENN.

A.B. II

Eumenean Literary Society; Aesculapian Club; Tennessee Club.

*"He is wise who best employs
The passing hour alone."*

A ladies' man and one that men, too, like. There's a rare combination for you. Jim certainly has the respect and the friendship of everyone, and even if he'd beat you out of your girl, you'd have to admit that the best man won. He's fair and square in all his dealings, and the faith that we have in him, for his success, will certainly be justified in the years to come.

ERNEST LAMAR HOLLINGSWORTH

"Holly"

ATLANTA, GA.

Special

Phi Alpha Pi; Volunteer Band; Davidson College Band; Eu Society.

"Who conquers me shall find a stubborn foe"

"Holly" skipped a year in his course and came back to finish with the class of '24. You might meet him anywhere on the campus but you never find him letting the cares of this world bother him very deeply. His rat-atat-tat on the drums in the band couldn't be copied, even if the drum does almost equal him in size. It isn't always the big man who has the stuff in him, and many a small man finds his place at the top. He's sure to make a hard fight to get there.

WILLIAM GLENN HOUCK

"Hippo"

CHINA GROVE, N. C.

A.B. II

Philanthropic Literary Society; Supervisor of Philanthropic Society.

"You cram these words into my ears Against the stomach of my sense"

"Hippo the Houck," alias Lionel Strongfort, alias the "Human Fly." "Hippo" has made himself famous by his many feats of strength, wall climbing, and all such exhibitions a la Barnum & Bailey. All joking aside, however, he is liked by all his fellow students and always has a pleasant word for everybody he meets. He is an exceptionally bright student, being a regular shark in the Psychology class. We can easily imagine him as a famous professor of Psychology in one of our leading universities in the distant future. The best wishes of the student body go with him as he steps out into life.

WILLIAM RODDEY HOUGH

JACKSON, MISS.

A.B. II

Band; Spanish Club; Class Basketball, '23.

*"They say there are better men than I,
But I'll have to get my glasses"*

Roddey came to us from Jackson, the one in Mississippi, and for four years has been a spirited and valued member of the Class of '24. His ambition seems to be in the direction of the insurance field and its possibilities, and being a gifted salesman we expect great things from Roddey when he tackles insurance or any other vocation he may choose.

ALFRED PERRIN HUDGINS

"Perrin"

RICHMOND, VA.

B.S. I

Polity Club; Honor Roll, '23; Senior Class Cheer Leader; President and Secretary Volunteer Band; Pandemic Literary Society; Vice-President Aesculapian Club.

"He bears him like a gentleman"

Some day we expect to hear "Perrin" telling us of his work and experiences in Africa and Japan as a missionary. His work on the campus and his especial interest in the Ministerial and Volunteer movements have made him a leader in this phase of college life. His personality and amiability will be valuable assets in his chosen line of endeavor. The future will hear him called in the world a "true Davidson Man."

JOHN BALDWIN HUNTER

"Jack"

DAVIDSON, N. C.

B.S. I

Scrub Football, '22-'23; Class Baseball, '22-'23.

"A mighty hunter, his prey was man"

A life spent in Davidson, before and during college days, have made "Jack" a thorough Davidson man. His ideas as to work and friendship agree with all Davidson ideals, and when he applies them to whatever work he may take up in the future, they are sure to make a success of him. We expect to see "Jack" climbing the narrow road to the top in record time.

ALLEN MESEROLE HURD

DAVIDSON, N. C.

A.B. II

Delta Pi Kappa; Metrophilian Literary Society; Reporters' Club; El Centro Espanol, '22-'23; Spanish Club, '23-'24; Cap and Bells Staff, '22-'23; Wildcat Minstrels, '22-'23; Monitor, '22-'23; Dramatic Club; President Reporters' Club, '23-'24; Business Manager Davidson College Magazine.

*"In works, or of skill
I would be buoy too"*

Have you ever known a man who was a combination of a business man, clothing agent, lady-killer, and ticket-taker, all in one? If not, meet our friend and classmate, Meserole—he's one of those things. Allen has been a valuable man to the Class of '24, and the class appreciates him. We don't know which one of the factors of the combination he will specialize in, but we are looking for success in anything he takes hold of.

JESSE CLYDE JOHNSTON

"Clyde"

DAVIDSON, N. C.

B.S. I

"Humility is the base of every virtue"

Here's a lad who is a thorough Davidsonite—one you seldom see rambling around the campus without anything to do, for there's plenty of work only too anxious to find the man who looks for it. "J. C." is a regular limb off the tree of silence, and has never been known to say much except when there seems to be no other way out. We haven't learned of his chosen vocation so soon to begin, but whatever it may be, we predict a successful one.

ROBERT RANDOLPH JONES "Alkali"
 EL PASO, TEX.
 A.B. II

Pi Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Delta Pi Kappa; The Swastika; Eumenean Society; President Senior Class; Secretary and Treasurer Student Body, '21; Member of the Court of Control; Member of the Student Council; Vice-President Student Council, '23-'24; Treasurer Junior Class, '22-'23; Honor Roll, '20-'21; English Assistant; Reporters' Club, '21-'22; Davidsonian Staff, '22-'23; Eumenean Marshall, '22; Dramatic Club, '21-'22; President Aesclopian Club, '23-'24; Western Club; Pan-Hellenic Council, '23-'24; Phi Beta Kappa.

*"I bate no jot of heart or hope,
 But still bear up and steer right onward"*

"Alkie" has more energy stored in his five feet six inches than is usually possessed by one man. On leaving Davidson, he will leave a career loaded with honors, and every one of them hard earned ones. His pure worth has won for him the esteem of his friends, and his regime as President of the Senior Class has on its record some notable achievements. He has been truly a leader in all lines of activity while here, and as his make-up is one that improves with use, he cannot fail to succeed in his chosen work.

WALLACE THEODORE JONES
"Ted"
 ATLANTA, GA.
 A.B. II

Phi Gamma Delta; Omicron Delta Kappa; President of Y. M. C. A.; President of Dramatic Club; President and Director of Glee Club; College Quartet, 4 years; Dramatic Club, 4 years; Georgia Club; Eumenean Literary Society; Le Cercle Français; Class Cheer Leader, '22-'23; Chairman Junior Speaking Committee; Director "Stunt Night;" Cap and Bells Staff; Wildcat Minstrels; Student Volunteer Band.

*"Cupid is a knavish lad
 Thus to make poor mortals mad"*

An O. D. K. key hangs gracefully from this young man's watch-chain, because he has been one of Davidson's best "Y" presidents. Ted possesses to a wonderful degree that ability which enables a man to do almost anything, and do it well. His class work doesn't trouble him enough to make him give it his entire attention, and his versatility has enabled him to include the Glee Club, minstrelsy, dramatics, and all such in his activities. When he goes forth to the foreign field we feel sure that his work there will be like it was at Davidson—the very best.

ARCHIE CHINA KEELS

"A. C."

PARMELE, N. C.

B.S. I

Phi Gamma Delta; Sigma Pi Sigma; Assistant Manager Baseball, '23; Manager Baseball, '24; Executive Council Athletic Association; "D" Club; Spanish Club; House Committee; Scrub Baseball; Assistant in Physics; Assistants' Club.

"Reason and Love keep little company here"

Archie China, with the "goo-goo, googly" eyes. He's a mighty dangerous man for the fellow who has a girl and wants to keep her. The boy can't help it because the ladies fall for him like the leaves in autumn. Outside of that, you couldn't want a better pal than Archie. As baseball manager he worked hard and faithfully to give his team the excellent schedule which they enjoyed. Archie is an all-round good fellow, and with the start that he has acquired in life, we are sure that he will finish the race in fine form and be a great credit to his Alma Mater.

WILSON RANDOLPH KRETCHMAR

"Kretsch"

BRANDENTON, FLA.

A.B. I

Theta Upsilon Omega; Ministerial Band; Volunteer Band.

"All may do, what by man has been done"

"Kretsch" isn't a man who fools around when he starts to do a thing, for that element is lacking in his makeup. With a ready word for all his friends, and they include everyone on the campus, he gains by his personality some things for which many people have to work. In any line of endeavor he believes in putting out to the best of his ability. While he has been here he has gone his way without show or ostentation, and when he goes from among us, we know that "Kretsch" will be one of those to carry on in the matter of a worldly career.

JACOB CALVIN LEONARD, JR.

"Shike"

LEXINGTON, N. C.

A.B.

Aesculapian Club; Philanthropic; Salesman's Club.

*"I ne'er could any lustre see
In eyes that would not look on me"*

Jacob C. Leonard, better known as "Shike," is another one of those spirited and ever-ready fellows who has helped to make a name for the Class of '24. He is Johnny-on-the-spot when it comes to co-operation, and when you want a companion who enjoys himself to the utmost, put your chukkers on "Shike." The class is expecting every success to hitch on to "Shike," and those who know him vow that the class will not be disappointed.

WILLIAM THOMAS LONG

"Bill"

CORNELIUS, N. C.

B.S. I

Varsity Football, '22-'23; "D" Club.

"I'll fight till my bones, my flesh be hacked"

In "Tige," Cornelius has furnished us a true fighting Wildcat. His work on the Varsity has been consistent and praiseworthy for the last two years. The Class of '24 is indeed proud to claim him as one of her men. "Tige" is one of those few who get quietly on their way, making good grades and still better impressions. We are truly expecting great things of this scrapping Wildcat, and when he leaves Davidson to take up his life work, the same fighting spirit that made him a true Wildcat will make him a true and thorough success.

ANGUS MURDOCK MCBRYDE

"Mac"

RAEFORD, N. C.

B.S. I

Volunteer Band; Metrophilian Literary Society; Secretary of the "Y"; Board of Control; Student Council, '22-'24; Treasurer State Volunteer Union, '23-'24; Vigilance Committee, '22-'23; Varsity Track; "D" Club; Manager Track, '22-'23-'24; Manager Class Track, '22; Class Basketball, 4 years; Manager Class Basketball, '22; Class Baseball; Assistant in Bible and Philosophy.

"He's true to God, who is true to man"

Angus started off with a bang in his Fresh year by breaking the college record for the two-mile. He has been a record-breaker ever since. The Class Basketball team claims him as one of its mainstays, and the "Y" claims him as one of its most active workers. The most we could say of any one is that he is a true Davidson man, and Angus is that plus. We send him out in the world with the utmost confidence.

WATT MCCAIN

"Watt"

LEXINGTON, MISS.

B.S. II

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Annual Staff, 2 years; Davidsonian Staff; Glee Club and Orchestra, 2 years; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Dramatic Club; Delta Pi Kappa.

"Kindness in women, not their beauteous looks,

Shall win my love"

Laughing, jesting, day after day as if troubles will never come. Everybody forgets sorrow when Watt comes around and his merry laugh makes him the immediate friend of everyone he meets. Watt is one of the hardest workers of his class and he believes in never starting anything that he can't finish. As Art Editor of this Annual he has labored faithfully towards making it a success, and we know that his personality can not fail to make him a success in any undertaking, and assure him a brilliant future.

WILLIAM ASBURY MCCLAIN

"Bill"

SWEETWATER, TENN.

B.S. I

Beta Theta Pi; Eumenean Literary Society; Class Football; Glee Club; Assistant Business Manager Davidsonian; Spanish Club; Scrub Football; Pan-Hellenic Council.

"Though modest, on his unembarrassed brow Nature had written—gentleman"

"Bill" is a man that we can't just exactly decipher, because we never know what will be his next move. He'd be in a happy mood even if he knew that he was going to be given the "pink slip" the next minute. Such a thing will never happen to Bill, however, because he is made of that stuff that Davidson men admire—a true gentleman. He's an athlete, both Spanish and otherwise, and is a man who never calls quits. Our best wishes are with him.

JOHN DIELL MCCLUER

"Jack"

O'FALLON, MO.

B.S.

Eu Society; Band; Western Club; Salesman Club; Waiters' Union.

"'Tis death with me to be at enmity"

It is said that the majority of pipe smokers are good fellows. John D. is a consistent pipe-smoker. Therefore we truly say that he is a good fellow. In fact we would say it whether he smoked a pipe or not. He is rarely ever seen without one, hence the syllogism. McClure is one of those men with honest-to-goodness class spirit who is always ready to aid in any way possible. The class can be rightfully proud of John D.

JAMES HARVEY McCONNELL, JR.

"Spec"

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

B.S. II

Kappa Sigma; Assistant Cheer Leader, '22-'23; Varsity Track; Varsity Basketball; "D" Club; Pan-Hellenic Council.

"And the ladies, strange to say, Pester him both night and day."

"Spec" hails from the Land of the Sky, and he not only comes from high country but he also ranks high in popularity among his classmates. His first two years he upheld the honor of the class on the basketball court, and since then has been doing the same thing for the college. "Spec" has been a lively member of the Class of '24, and the class is proud to claim him as one of their number, and rightly so, because "Spec" will "go" wherever he takes hold.

CHARLES WALKER McCRARY

"Charlie"

ASHEBORO, N. C.

A.B.

Kappa Alpha; Class Football; Manager Golf Team, '22-'23-'24.

"The better part of valor is discretion"

The titles of Don Juan and Beau Brummel coalesce and fittingly descend on our illustrious classmate "Chink." He denies it all, but that can't change the opinions of the whole crowd. His quiet attitude, that is sincere to the core, has won him many friends at Davidson. Those who never have become intimately acquainted with Charlie we would advise to cultivate his friendship, for to know him is to know a true friend. His marked successes with the fair sex have by no means outclassed his other capabilities, and we're looking for great things from "Chink" in the future.

JOSEPH CUNNINGHAM MCJUNKIN

"Mac"

HOULKA, MISS.

A.B.

Emenean Literary Society; Ministerial Band; Bible Class Leader; House Committee.

"If thou desire to be held wise, be so wise as to hold thy tongue"

Here is a dependable man. When he tells you he's from Mississippi, for Davidson all the time, and that he will be a preacher some day, you believe it. His interest in the Christian activities on the campus has been unflinching. His nearby Sunday School will miss him when he has graduated. Joe does not choose any easy course, but having chosen, he gains his goal by persistent endeavor. You don't get all of Joe's secrets at one sitting; those who know him best think most of him.

EARLE MERWYN MCKELLAR

"Red"

ROWLAND, N. C.

B.S. I

Pi Kappa Alpha; Sigma Pi Sigma.

"Silence is golden"

Titan haired McKellar; the campus won't be the same without him, and how Charlotte and her suburbs will miss him, it is sad to think. Here we have a man who pursues the even tenor of his way even if he does strike a bump now and then. Red's face is never glum; he always has a smile and a "Hey, there, guy, where yuh goin'," even in the worst of weather. But for all his fun and Scotch-Irish wit, McKellar is a good student and especially a good physicist. If you ever see a light late at night in the physics building, it is McKellar down there playing with the radio set. He is a math shark par excellence, and if you keep your eye on him, some of these days you will see him outshining Einstein.

JOHN LEE McLEAN

"Mac"

ST. PAULS, N. C.

A.B. 2

Philanthropic; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Fresh-Soph Declaimer's Medal; Monitor; Assistant in Biology; Assistant in Law; Polity Club; Vice-President Y. M. C. A.; President Philanthropic Society; Secretary Senior Class; Court of Control; Junior-Senior Debater's Medal.

"The purest treasure mortal times afford, is spotless reputation"

Lee has always been popular on the campus and admired as a hard worker, willing at all times to do his part in everything. He is a recognized leader in Christian work on the Hill and has accomplished a great deal along these lines. He is a good speaker who can always be depended upon to give his audience something worth while. The Court of Control has one of its most able workers in Lee. With such a fine personality and power of speech as Lee has, we are certain that he will make a great preacher.

RICHARD HUNT McMILLAN

"Dick"

ATLANTA, GA.

B.S. I

Beta Theta Pi; Class Basketball; Assistant in Psychology; Assistants' Club; Spanish Club; Georgia Club.

"The fashion wears out more apparel than the man"

The lad mentioned above has discovered the river of youth and beauty. His handsome features give him an unfair advantage over the rest of mankind. Dick is a talented man when it comes to the ladies. Being raised in Atlanta, we suppose some of this was forced upon him, but we can't blame the girls for falling. Dick's pleasantness and likeability carry him far in whatever he undertakes, and he bids fair to be a true son of old Davidson.

WILLIAM HENRY MATHESON

"Dope"

STATESVILLE, N. C.

A.B. II

Ministerial Band; Second Critic Metropolitan Society.

"Tis great, 'tis manly to disdain disguises"

Dope is one who never allows the retorts of others to his frequent sallies bother him in the least for he always has another on the end of his tongue. He will make his mark in this old world because of this ready tongue which has served him so well both in literary society and in campus bull sessions. However, Dope is not all talk. He is an excellent student in spite of his frequent visits to Statesville, and has been a real asset to the class and the college.

KENNETH FERGUSON MENZIES

"Knight"

HICKORY, N. C.

B.S

Theta Upsilon Omega; Football Squad; Class Football.

*"I count myself in nothing else so happy
As in a soul rememb'ring my good friends"*

Menzies ambled into camp from "Hickory Woods," and enlisted with the boys of '24. The roll is never called but "Knight" is there. His diligence to duty has won for him the respect of his fellows. He is quiet and unassuming, guarding well his own affairs. He tells us he will be a manufacturer. Our best wishes follow this knight out into the arena of the business world.

RAE HENDERSON MORRIS

"Sunshine"

CONCORD, N. C.

A.B. 1

Eumenean Literary Society.

"A moral, sensible, and well-bred man"

Ray is best described and characterized as a ladies' man. Had he lived in the ages past we'd have been reading of him instead of Sir Walter Raleigh or some of the other famous beaux. He is especially addicted to dancing, and almost any Terpsichorean celebration will find him among those present. With a heart of gold, and an ability to make friends of all mankind, Ray's qualities will be recognized after he begins to mingle with the monarchs of the business world and ere long we expect to see Morris, '23, and Morris, '24, two of the state's foremost barristers.

GUY MONROE MORROW

"Guy"

MOORESVILLE, N. C.

A.B. 1

Ministerial Band; Secretary, '21; Metropolitan Literary Society, Supervisor and Second Critic; Reporters' Club.

"Uprightness is the half of happiness"

Guy is as quiet as quiet can be. He never raises a racket even when a stiff exam schedule or something equally maddening happens. He's quiet in his work and quietly receives the fruits of the hard work that he puts out. In short he believes in work for work's sake. He goes back to Mooresville with the assurance that he will make good. His numerous friends here expect to hear great things of Guy.

MARION JULIAN MURRAY

ST. PAULS, N. C.

B.S.

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; International Relations Club.

"Laughter is day and sobriety is night"

Here's a chemistry stud that makes fun of that mysterious work. Anything that might be handled around a chemical laboratory is his plaything. Marion makes friends without number by simply being Marion Murray at all times. No affectations or put-on can be found about him and a fellow can always depend on his word. His peculiar grin stays on his face so much of the time that we'd hardly know him in any other than a pleasant mood. Such a man is Marion. When the world finds it out, he'll be monarch of all he surveys.

JOHN DAHMER PARISH

"Frog"

GREENWOOD, MISS.

B.S. I

Beta Theta Pi; Student Council.

"I care for nobody, no not I, if nobody cares for me"

Johnny hails from the sunny cottonfields of Mississippi and just naturally couldn't help bringing a happy disposition along with him. He has worked hard during his stay with us and the only reason that he hasn't made the honor roll is because he didn't care that much about it. He is a prince of a good fellow and numbers his friends by his acquaintances. Johnny believes that where there is a will there is a way, and he generally has a pretty strong determination when he starts out. Luck to you. "Pash Pete," the road's all yours.

JAMES ROBERTS PHIPPS

"Jim"

GIBSONVILLE, N. C.

A.B. II

"Many a flower is born to blush unseen"

Jim isn't often seen around the campus, because he has plenty of work to do, and does it well. He is of the kind that make you think more and more the longer you know them. When he strikes his stride in life we expect to hear big things from him, because real Davidson men, who have Davidson ideals at heart as Jim has, never fail to become leaders. The world will recognize, in him, those qualities that make a leader.

DAVID SHANKS PHLEGAR, JR.

"Dave"

CHRISTIANSBURG, VA.

B.S. II

Kappa Alpha; Spanish Club; Virginia Club; Student Club; Class Historian, '22-'23; House Committee, '23-'24.

"This fellow picks up wit, as pigeons peas"

Dave pursues the even tenor of his way when others are excited and flustered—even in the awe-inspiring presence of the fairer sex. Dave is a ladies' man, and a man that men like too. That makes a rare combination, and there is only one Dave Phlegar. He is liked by everyone and could well say that he envies no one whomsoever, for he has, in a character and personality that make him a leader, the really big things of life. The confidence of his associates in him, coupled with his ability, will put him in a place that few men can fill.

PAUL BUFORD PRICE

"Pablo"

SALEM, VA.

B.S. I

Delta Theta Chi; Le Cercle Francais; Virginia Club; Class Football.

"To get thy ends, lay bashfulness aside"

After knowing this young man for a while you never fail to speak to him whenever you have a chance, because you like to call him a friend. He's steady, dependable, and ready to give you his last red cent if you need it. His good-heartedness may diminish his capital when he starts out in life, but some day we'll see him throwing money to the winds. Paul has the best that Davidson can give him and will certainly use it to the best advantage.

REGINALD LYNE PRICE

"Reg"

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

A.B. II

Kappa Phi; Metrophilians; Delta Pi Kappa; Class Basketball, '22-'23; Class Football, '23; Assistant Business Manager Davidsonian, '22-'23; Reporters Club; El Club Espanol; Annual Staff, '24; Movies; Vice-President and Critic Metrophilian Literary Society; Business Manager Davidsonian, '23-'24; President Charlotte Club; Business Manager "Cap and Bells," President Metrophilian, '23-'24; Marshall, '22-'23.

"His wit invites you by his looks to come"

A true American, our English friends would say, for this man thinks only in terms of dollars and cents and he knows the art of coaxing them into yawning coffers. As business manager of the Davidsonian, "Reg" has put the paper on a sound financial basis, and has kept it there throughout the past year. Reg is a true American in more than one way—he is simply a good all around fellow that knows how to do what is to be done and does it.

PERRY DAVIS PRIEST

RIDGECREST, N. C.

B.S. I

Delta Tau Delta; Epsilon Theta Delta;
The Shack.

*"Give me kisses, nay, 'tis true,
I am just as rich as you"*

Perry's sojourn with us has been but brief, but his circle of friends has by no means been narrow. Likeable in every respect, he has the stuff in him that makes a man's road easier to travel when he hits the world for himself. Simple diligence combined with ability promise to make this lad one of the few at the top when the end comes, and Davidson will be proud to point him out as one of her sons.

EUGENE MARSHALL REGEN

"Sky Jack"

FRANKLIN, TENN.

B.S. I

Pi Kappa Alpha; Judge Court of Control; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Vice-President Pandemic Literary Society; Inter-Society Council; Omicron Delta Kappa.

"True as the dial to the sun, Although it be not shined upon."

We have been most fortunate in securing the sons of other institutions and in "Sky Jack" we have another such precious acquisition. This six foot three lad hails from Tennessee; not from the mountains, but from the plain country.

He is the daddy of the Freshman class; at the head of the Court of Control he rules the Fresh well, and thanks to him, we have not only a well trained bunch of Freshmen, but a loyal class, having practically the same enrollment at the end of the year that originally registered.

"Sky" has a weakness for skirts, and ever so often we see some damsel, either local or foreign, hanging on his arm and looking languishingly into his deep bespectacled eyes. But for all his conquests he is a splendid fellow and one whom his classmates expect to do justice to the old college's reputation and to better conditions here in the South.

ADRAIN MOORE SAMPLE

FORT PIERCE, FLA.

B.S. I

Eumenean Literary Society; Florida Club;
Aesculapin Club.

"What a thing friendship is"

Here is a man who came to us a Sophomore. Adrain entered the University of his native state, Florida, in 1920, taking his Freshman work there. His friends, and Davidson, drew him to our midst and he has proven a decided asset to the Class of '24. We have found in him qualities of true manhood, honesty, sincerity and diligence. He is a lover of his books. He has made them his boon companions and the Chemistry Lab a place to spend his leisure hours. Just give him time and see his name in "Who's Who in America," when it comes to Chemistry.

FRANK SAMPSON SHAW

"Pint"

QUINCY, FLA.

B.S.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

"Bosom up my counsel—you'll find it wholesome"

"Pint." That's a word of mighty small dimensions, and it doesn't express this lad's capacity in any respect—in liquids, in work, or in fun. Pint is, at heart, a ladies' man, and he cannot get away from the idea, for the girls simply won't let him. He's of the kind that never have to bull with the professors to get the grades, for he rates them on his own merits and work. His rewards in life will be the same, in proportion, to those that work and perseverance have brought him here.

JOHN WELLS SIMPSON, JR.

"Simp"

GREENSBORO, N. C.

B.S.

Kappa Alpha; Philanthropic Literary Society; Baseball Squad, '20-'21; Glee Club; Le Cercle Francais; Originator of "Hot Water" idea of freedom, '22-'23.

"Ease was his chief disease"

This is John, the pride of Greensboro, noted far and near. He kept a calendar in which he recorded the dates of his proposals, but it got to be too much like work, so he cut it out. He is a skillful mechanic and knows all about cranks, flywheels, radios, and Fords, especially the parts that relate to patented window closers. As a musician, John needs no introduction to Davidson men—just go to the movies and listen to the yell "Music." That means they want John and the rest known as "Simpson's Symphony Six." John has made himself popular here at Davidson, and we hate to see him go.

JOHN IRVING SMITH

"Johnny"

GREENVILLE, S. C.

A.B. II

Beta Theta Pi; Phi Beta Kappa; "D" Club; Polity Club; French Circle; Omicron Delta Kappa; Honor Roll; Alumni Association Medal; Eumenean Society; Vice-President Junior Class; Vice-President Polity Club; Inter-Society Council; Forensic Council; Court of Control; Scrub Baseball, '22-'23; Captain Class Baseball, '22-'23; Assistant Manager Basketball, '23; Manager Basketball, '24; Student Council, '23-'24; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '23-'24; Chief Marshall, '23-'24; Assistant in French, Economics and Accounting, '23-'24; President South Carolina Club; Bible Class Leader.

"He was a man, take him all in all!"

"Johnny" is truly a man among men. He has attained such a height of respect in the eyes of the student body that his opinions and ideas on all questions that concern student life have weight and influence. He believes that where there's a will there's a way, and generally that way is good, hard labor. Genuine work and a real personality have made "Johnny" the man that he is, and time improves such attributes. We recognize him as one worthy to bear our Alma Mater's name in any undertaking. There's success ahead for him.

PAUL JAMES STEELE

"Pauline"

LOWRYS, S. C.

B.S. I

Pandemic Literary Society; South Carolina Club.

"One thing is forever good—that one thing is success"

In the days when the men of '24 were wild and bloody Sophomores, a Freshman might have considered this man among the bloodiest. As time has passed, we find in him qualities that make men. He's a quiet, hard-working student, and he has the vim and the push to make things go. Nothing spectacular about him—but we're expecting to see him right there with the goods in the game of life.

JOHN PRESTON STEVENSON

"Steve"

STONY POINT, N. C.

A.B. II

"Speech is great, but silence is greater"

Here's a man that is hard to find around the campus. He seldom strays from the paths of duty, and then only to do some extra work. John is the kind of man who has to be forced to take vacations, then goes back to work in the shortest possible time. With his stickability and doggedness he'll some day find himself where there are only a few—at the top. When the roll of those who deserve to bear the name of Davidson is called, we'll find "Steve" among the first and most worthy.

PAUL JACKSON STORY

"Third Story"

MARION, N. C.

A.B. II

Delta Theta Chi; Philanthropic Society; First Supervisor Phi; Second Critic Phi; Vice-President Phi; First Critic Phi; Fresh-Soph Debater's Medal; Junior-Senior Debater's Medal; Junior Rep.; Forensic Council; Reporters' Club; Policy Club; Class Basketball; Class Football; Davidsonian Staff.

"I had rather have such men as friends than enemies"

This is the "Third Story" to come to us from the hills of North Carolina during the last decade. He has a ready answer for any question that may be asked. His straightforward manner and his keenness of intellect have won the admiration of his fellows. Paul has shown a vital interest in the Literary Societies throughout his college career. The record he has made shows few equals in debate and oratory. Always full of pep and fight for his college and his class, he has come into the light to show his physical prowess. Those who see him in action on his class team no longer question his ability as a basketball player.

ROBERT LEE STOWE

"Bob"

BELMONT, N. C.

B.S. I

Phi Gamma Delta; President Gaston County Club.

" 'Tis good will makes intelligence"

The affection that Anthony had for Cleopatra was as nothing when compared with Bob's love for Belmont, his home town. Bob simply can't understand why young boys leave home, for every week-end he journeys back to the old homestead. We don't blame him a bit, tho', for he has only to whistle and a Cadillac or two come rolling out to meet him—and then—well, Belmont numbers some mighty pretty girls in its population. Whenever he is on the campus his smile is contagious, and he has roped in a multitude of friends who are wishing him the best of luck as he goes forth into the world.

CHARLES MEREDITH STREIBICH

"Low"

OKOLONA, MISS.

B.S.

Kappa Phi; Track Team, '21, '23, '24; Captain Track Team, '24; Mississippi Club; Assistant Registrar; Math. Assistant; Class Football; Class Basketball; Class Track; College Pole Vault Record; "D" Club; Executive Committee Athletic Association.

"From wine, what sudden friendships spring"

"Low-Pockets" drifted in from Mississippi on the trail of "High-Pockets," who had already made a name in Davidson athletics for the Streibich family. "Low" entered Davidson a year ahead of the rest of '24, but he liked the bunch so well that he stayed out a year to let the rest catch up. Streibich was a feature of the Wildcat Track Team from the beginning and was always an A-1 hurdler and pole-vaulter. He captained the track squad his Senior year. He is not only a track "stud" but an all-around good fellow and a man's man from the beginning, not to speak of his scholarship, which is of no mean order.

HARRY ALEXANDER TOWNSHEND

"Hat"

BLENHEIM, S. C.

B.S.

"If music be the food of love, play on! give me excess of it"

When you're feeling like fun, page Harry. Cares sit lightly on the shoulders of this youth, and the bright side of things is the side he always sees. Even this question of study worries him but little. At exam time, even the professors can't dampen his spirits. Harry loves a life of ease, and he usually gets what he wants. Some day we will hear that he is paying an income tax equal to a fortune, and then we will realize that Harry has obtained his goal and is happy.

DAVID BARCLAY WALTHALL

WAYNESBORO, VA.

"The course of true love never did run smooth"

Phi Beta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Alpha Phi Epsilon; President, First Critic and Second Critic Pandemic Literary Society; President Ministerial Band; President Reporters' Club; Assistant in Bible, Greek and History; Honor Roll, '21, '22, '23; Debating Council; Junior-Senior Debater's Medal; Fresh-Soph Debating Team; Fresh-Soph Declaimer's Rep., (2); Assistant Editor Magazine; Caps and Bells Staff; Class Poet; Secretary-Treasurer Ministerial Band; Polity Club; Punctuality Roll, '21; Class Basketball; The Swastika; Order of the Golden Quill; Alternate Intercollegiate Debating Team.

"Duke" Walthall is from the Shenandoah. In fact, it was the Shenandoah oration that first brought D. Barclay forth as a speaker. Since then he has won several "Reps," a medal or two, and become President of the Pandemic Literary Society. But "Duke" didn't stop there. His scholarship won him a Phi Beta Kappa key and a couple of assistantships, while his steady-going Christian manhood brought him to the head of the Ministerial Band and made him an active leader in the religious life of the campus. Still another phase of this many-sided lad from Virginia is his literary work that brought him Sigma Upsilon and a berth on the Magazine Staff. "The Duke" will long be remembered by many friends on the Hill and carries with him the best wishes of all of them.

EDWARD ARTHUR WEST
"Ed"

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.
A.B. II

Theta Upsilon Omega; Wildcat Minstrels,
'22.

"That man must daily wiser grow, whose search is bent himself to know"

Ed loves to delve in the depths of Greek and ancients. We're surprised that he was not the man to raise old King Tut from his tombs. The mere fact that he is interested in bygone things does not make him backward. He is quite the stuff when the ladies are around, for he dearly loves to entertain them. Ed came to us in his Junior year, but leaves with many of the blessings that Davidson bestows. In his life work, whatever it may be, he will be a go-getter.

HENRY MARTYN WHITE

Swastika; Sigma Upsilon; Annual Staff; Magazine Staff; Polity Club; "Y" Cabinet; Reporters' Club; Philanthropic Literary Society; Volunteer Band; Forensic Council; Junior Speaker's Rep.; Oriental Club; Dramatic Club; Scrub Football; Wrestling Team; Davidsonian Photographer.

"The brave man seeks not popular applause"

Henry Martyn is the sort of fellow that is different. You have to know him well before you can penetrate the many original twists and turns of his personality, but when you have gone to the depths you will have found one of the most interesting men in the class. Photographer, writer and tramp; that is Henry Martyn. Almost every weekend finds him on the road, and only after a couple of days will he return, after having traversed several hundred miles. It is as a writer, however, that he has come farthest to the front. He has a vivid imagination, and a forceful, original style that will take him a long way in the quest for a literary reputation.

"Thus far our fortune keeps an upward course"

Various and numerous are the interests of this lad. Fortune made him a man subject to the favor of the ladies. He likes the pursuit of knowledge and is continually at it, no matter whether he be in the class room or outside. With his observing eye, few opportunities will escape him, and once in his hands they will bear fruit. Later in life we expect to see him an example of the success made by forcing every minute to do its duty.

"The will of man is by his reason stayed"

"Crown," who hails from almost as far a distance as our friends from China, has about five feet eighteen inches of the most likable characteristics. His long arms have put many an embryo boxer into an unsteady state, and his ability to get grades without an over amount of study has won for him the envy of many. "Crown" doesn't number his friends—there are too many of them. He'll never be stranded on whatever road of life he chooses for lack of friends. All who know him look for big things from a big man.

Junior Class History

VER since the Fall of 1921, when 204 Freshmen entered the halls of Davidson, the Class of 1925 has presented a unique record.

In every type of college activity, and in that spirit which is Davidson's, the Junior class has laid at the feet of her Alma Mater a worthy contribution.

The real history of the Class of '25 cannot be written with words. For it is the record of the lives and characters of the men of the class. What these men have each given to Davidson's spirit, Davidson's traditions, Davidson's honor, is the class' real history.

Through the activities of college life the evidence of this contribution is shown.

The gridiron season of 1923 has seen five Juniors in action as regulars and many among the reserves. The opening of basketball season finds four Junior letter men back on the job. Baseball and track are as yet forecasts at the time of writing, but from past indications, the prospects are good for a strong group of Juniors on both teams. The class is represented on the wrestling team, and the tennis team is composed of four Juniors.

In inter-class competition, the Class of '25 has won one out of two baseball series, one out of two football series, and one out of three basketball series. The class basketball team of the Sophomore year is notable for having won all six games of the inter-class series, having defeated Concord "Y," and having given Charlotte "Y" two close games.

Though not so spectacular as the athletic, the literary activities of the college have been supported by a large group of hard-working men of '25. In intercollegiate debating, literary society work, the Davidsonian, the Magazine, and Quips and Cranks, the class has been ably represented.

Socially, the Sophomore banquet proved to be an unparalleled success, and at the time of writing, prospects are bright for a most enjoyable Junior Speaking.

Scholastically, up to the time of writing, the Junior Class averages the highest of any in college for the year. Five members have found coveted berths on the honor roll for one or more years, and one member leads the college for scholastic average.

The Y. M. C. A. has had hearty support from members of the Junior Class. The Bible Classes, Prayer Groups, Ministerial Band, Volunteer Band, and every other religious activity on the campus finds a strong quota of Juniors working with whole-hearted support.

In issues coming up for decision, such as class resolutions, the establishment of the Court of Control, and the founding of the Honor Store, the class has been united in acting according to what each member thought best for the interests of the college.

Officers for the first three years have been both worthy and capable, the presidents being J. P. Hendrix, M. S. Beall, and C. M. S. McIlwaine.

Yet, a large part of the history of '25 is still unwritten. Next year will find that class in leadership. What, building upon her own record of successes and mistakes, and upon the records of classes that have gone before, she may yet contribute to the Christian spirit and traditions of old Davidson is a chapter yet untold.

And then, when college doors and college days are left behind, and each man makes his mark beyond, will be written that great chapter of Life, yet unachieved but bidding fair to be a history worthy of old Davidson, and of the Class of '25.

The Song of Twenty Five

Come near, O harlequin! I'd have thee sing
An olden song—of labor, strength, and youth,
Of sacrifice, and fellowship, and truth,
And love and happiness which all these bring.

I'll tell thee of a noble band, O sire;
Their name, "The Class of Twenty-Five," displayed
In colors orange and black. Each one, arrayed, Starts on his quest, determined to acquire
The prize. 'Tis early morn; the rising sun
Smiles down on ten score lads. Uneasy, still
All eager to begin to climb the Hill
Of Knowledge. Now their long trip is begun
O'er a rocky road; 'tis neither smooth nor wide;
Some leap, some falter, while some steadily plod
Along the path which many others trod
In years now gone. Yet some few turn aside
For pleasure. Those remaining, tried and true,
Undaunted by the burning heat of noon,
And spurning thoughts of rest, march on, for soon
Their goal they'll reach. 'Tis even now in view—
One mighty effort more! On those who strive
The golden crown of Victory shall fall;
Their noble deeds shall echo through Time's hall;
All honor to the Class of Twenty-Five!

History of Class of 1926

TURNING back the pages of history in retrospection we find that it was 220 of the "assorted variety" that entered Davidson as the Class of 1926. During the first lap of the overland journey of many upgrades four members of the class distinguished themselves to the extent that they are wearers of the "D," one in basketball, Laird; one in wrestling, Lindamood; and two in baseball, Sion Alford and Frank Alford. Hazing disappeared entirely during the course of the year. Four of the number made the Reporters' Club, while one member was a good runner-up in the inter-collegiate debating preliminaries. While no recognition is made of golf players, in that they are not given a "D," two of the class occupied berths on the team that represented Davidson.

In a condensed form the above represents the accomplishments of the Class of '26 during its first year, and constituted a foundation for greater things, as has been evidenced already this year. Of the 220 who first set out, 162 returned to continue their work.

Athletically speaking, we have made a name for ourselves, since six of the nineteen "Ds" awarded in football went to Sophomores. Those making them were: Baker, Black, Wells, Vance, Laird, Lindamood. Many others were also out for every practice and lent their time and efforts to the Varsity. Laird, who last year merited a "D" in basketball, will add a star below it this year. The outcome of the other sports will not be known until some time after this has gone to press, and a page or two of our history will be turned back to include these accomplishments.

The class has been greatly distinguished this year by the oratorical attainments of its members. When Washington and Lee was debated, the team was composed of Sophomores, Stith and Hollingsworth, who successfully contended for Davidson. Stith joined the class this year. To the four members of the Reporters' Club have been added eight more, for a total of twelve. Besides these, many have worked hard for the Davidsonian and recognition of several has been made through the annals of the Davidson College Magazine. Five made the Glee Club by virtue of their musical talent.

Another distinguishing mark is the fact that the Sophomores have not indulged in hazing. It can be said, with reservations, that this is the first class that is not worthy of the title, "Bloody Sophs," since we have not been permitted to wield the paddle as the Sophs gone before.

The officers of the class have been: First year, N. E. Sappenfield, President; J. A. McMillan, Jr., Vice-President; C. E. Houston, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer; C. F. Smith, Poet; and W. E. Milton, Historian. Second year, T. S. Baker, President; C. F. Monk, Vice-President; E. K. Regen, Secretary-Treasurer; C. F. Smith, Poet; W. E. Milton, Historian.

The history of the class began, and was written; the history of the class is being made, and is being written; the history of the class for the two remaining years is yet to be made, and yet to be written; but the greatest history may never be written—that which is made by the individual members after graduation. Embodied in the present members are men who are going to make that history, and when the last line of the college chronicle is written, it remains with the individual members of the class of 1926 to continue the record made and perpetuate the principles set before us—and the members of this class are the type to do this.

A Call to Service

The days of youth pass all too quickly, golden days
 Of memory remain for future years when Sombre skies no more their sunshine hold. Sweet Dreams of childhood fail to vision sorrows that Must come into each heart and soul that breathes the Air of God's pure sky. The triumph and the prize
 Await the seeker after truth and right; new tasks
 Await the hands of those who fear no labor, toil,
 Nor cease until the work is done. A laurel wreath
 Of honor crowns the one who wins when others ceased
 Because the way was hard, while he kept faith and strove to prove himself a man. Be men! The World cries loud for those who seek to serve their Fellow men, for souls who falter not when Weary and alone. Prove strong and to the end
 Endure. For honor come to them who give their all.

With fleeting years our love will grow for all mankind,
 And filled with wondrous visions of a fairer land
 Will sink to sleep, while voices long since hushed bear
 Silent witness to our faithfulness and trust.

"If"

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting, too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginning
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them, "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but not too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!

—KIPLING.

Class History

IN the morning of September 15th, at exactly 8:30, the benches of old Shearer groaned under an entire new load. The 30,348 pounds of two hundred and twenty-five new seekers after higher knowledge and learning weighed down the beams of the old building to the limit. The Class of '27 was making itself felt for the first, and let us hope for the last time. In this, Davidson's greatest Freshman class, men of every type, temperament, and from the four winds, were gathered together to begin four of the most promising years in their lives. Practically every Southern State, China and Japan, and even old England, sent their sons to don the red and black cap. In this heterogeneous conglomeration Love was found to be very Short, while "petit" (Potcat) was O, so Long.

The Class of '27 from the very start had a rep to keep up. As the first class in the history of the college to begin its course without the warning admonition of the paddle, the eyes of the upper classmen were upon it as never before. Our duty to the College and to future Freshmen classes was impressed upon us from the very start. It is not up to the Class of '27 to say whether the Board of Control is a failure or otherwise, neither is it the duty of anyone to say that the class as a whole has not backed Regen and his Board. As a class we owe a great deal to these upper classmen, who have taken such an interest in us.

In athletics we have a great deal to be proud of. Owing to the one-year rule, no member of the class was eligible for the Varsity football team. Our football team came out very creditably and a number of our classmates should make themselves places in Davidson football. In basketball Sapp and Hewlett played on both the Varsity and Freshman teams. A promising outlook is in view for baseball and track and before the year is out some ought to do great things along those lines.

In literary and forensic lines the class has a great future. Whether we know it or not, there is a poet of no mean ability in our midst. The literary societies have brought out the hidden talents of many men along speaking lines. With the Freshman Intercollegiate Debate before us, we expect to see a great many more orators spring into prominence.

Our class was led by the following officers: W. A. Christian, President; J. W. Keerans, Secretary and Treasurer; W. T. Covington, Vice-President. At a later date J. A. Calligan was elected Poet, and W. S. Woods, Historian.

With three more years before us, our only hope is that we may be worthy of our Alma Mater and ever hold high the ideals for which she stands. Although we shall go into the varied channels of life after college, may every member of the Class of '27 always be known as a Davidson man, in the fullest sense of the word.

W. S. WOODS, Historian.

Stand to the Helm!

Stand to the helm! Stand to the helm!
A calm sky bends above us
Flashes the gleam of the morning sun
Over the track where the ripples run—
And the wide sea waits before us!

Naught of the sky but beckons on—
Naught of the sea but calls us;
Naught of the strength of the sweeping flood
But quickens the fire of a common blood
For any fate that befalls us.

Think not that skies will be always blue—
That tempests will never beset us.
'Tis storms and billows that quicken the strife,
And out on the rolling Ocean of Life
'Tis shadows that fashion and fit us.

Then trim ye your sails to meet any gale,
Right onward the way streams before us.
Forget now the relics of memories dim,
Advance in the light and power of Him
Whose banner is fluttering o'er us.

Only the true, only the brave,
Only the purest stand with us.
Comrades all for the cruise are we
Over the strange, new, silent sea—
The sea that stretches before us.

Stand to the helm! Stand to the helm!
A calm sky bends above us!
Flashes the gleam of the morning sun
Over the track where the ripples run—
And the wide sea waits before us!

J. H. CALIGAN.

W. H. SEET

Wildcat Coaches

W. L. YOUNGER
Head Coach

was on the All-Southern Basketball team for four years, and on the All-Southern Baseball pick for two years.

Captain G. H. Weems, attached to the R. O. T. C. department, has made Davidson's wrestling team. A man of high character and ability, the whole student body has admired him, and his experience as champion of his weight in wrestling at West Point has given Davidson's grapplers a thorough knowledge of the sport.

Davidson's athletic policy, under the direction of the faculty advisor, Dr. J. M. Douglas, has included in its expansion two additional coaches besides a head coach, W. L. "Monk" Younger. Coach Monk, as director of all athletics here, has, as his staff, Tex Tilson and C. W. Rawson. Monk himself will be remembered as one of the greatest of Davidson's athletes. He finished his college course at V. P. I. in fully as creditable a manner as he began it at Davidson. At Hampden-Sidney and V. P. I. he had successful careers in coaching, and came to Davidson well acquainted with conditions and thoroughly able to handle men.

"Tex" Tilson first became acquainted with Davidson in the Davidson-V. P. I. game last year. His mountainous size in the line, his stellar work, and his position of captain made him a conspicuous figure. He began his career as a great player at V. P. I., and for five years he was the high light of that team, and was picked for All-Southern tackle for three years. He came to Davidson with Coach Monk after he had completed his course at V. P. I.

C. W. Rawson, coach of Freshman athletics, also has a record as a great athlete. A graduate of the University of Georgia, he was on the All-Southern Basketball team for four years, and on the All-Southern Baseball

RICHARDSON FIELD

In the program for the development of Davidson and the improvement of her campus, made several years ago, plans for an athletic field comparable to the best in the South were included. On account of the financial strain that has existed for several years past, there were no available funds for the purpose until last year, when Mr. L. Richardson, of Greensboro, President of the Alumni Association of the College, and always a staunch supporter of his Alma Mater, gave the college $30,000 to be used in the construction of a modern athletic field.

The field, named for the donor of the money used in its construction, is located on the site of the old field, but covers much more ground. The baseball diamond is in the same place as before. Directly southwest of it is the Varsity gridiron. To the east and north of this gridiron is the scrub field, which was completed first and used for several Varsity games. A quarter mile track surrounds the whole field with the straightaway in front of the grandstand. The runs for the jumping and the pole vaulting events are just south of the grandstand, on the outside of the track. The grandstand is yet to be constructed, and will be built of concrete and steel. Through it will be the main entrance to the field. Gates to the north and south of it admit players and officials.

O, DAVIDSON

O, Davidson! You are the best old college in the east or west;
You play a fair game, you play a square game,
And you win in everything—
And when the Red and Black Machine
Is out to fight and looking mean—
Then I am happy
As for you I sing,

O, Davidson! We will down them,
Down them every one;
Come, Davidson, we will conquer
Ere the day is done.
Down every college,
As through their lines we run;
Win for the honor
Of old Davidson.

FOOTBALL

Football Resume 1923

FAISON
Captain—End

The season of 1923 though not a success from the standpoint of games won and lost, marks a turning point in Wildcat football.

Three games were won and seven lost, but the percentage does not always tell the tale. Under a new coach and playing the heaviest schedule in several years, the Wildcats were handicapped at the outset.

Coach Monk Younger, former Wildcat star in 1915, returned to his Alma Mater to direct her athletic teams. As his assistant, Tex Tilson, who had played under him at V. P. I., directed the work in the line. Here it is that the Wildcats' real handicap lay. With scant line material to select from, there was always some forward on the hospital list. Against Carolina the thin Red line averaged 153 pounds, but despite this disparity in weight the Tarheels only nosed out a 14-3 victory.

Every man on the team fought as Davidson men always fight, and with defeat staring them in the face, still upheld the Wildcat reputation on the gridiron.

Throughout the season Captain Faison, playing his fourth and last year on the right flank, led his men against odds such as few Davidson teams have ever faced. Elon, P. C., and Citadel were beaten. For the second time in history the Old Gold and Black warriors from Wake Forest triumphed over their Red clad foe; V. P. I. nosed out a 7-0 victory on an intercepted pass; the Wolfpack from Raleigh routed the Wildcats on Wearn Field; Furman and Clemson lowered the Red and Black banner on South Carolina fields; Carolina nosed out the Wildcats 14-3 in a contest of brilliant runs and diving tackles; and in the season's final encounter the Trinity Blue Devils made it two straight over their Presbyterian foe.

SHEPHERD
Halfback

Such is the record of Coach Younger's men. Often defeated, but never beaten, the Wildcats played through their twenty-seventh season on the gridiron.

The Richardson Athletic Field is the bright spot in 1923 football history. The field was christened with a 7-0 victory over Citadel, the only home game of the year.

WILDCATS 19—ELON 0

The Davidson Wildcats swung into action against the Elon Christians in the first game of the season, and came off with the large end of a 19-0 score. The game was played in Cornelius, as the new Richardson Field was a sheet of mud. For several hours before the game a horde of supporters filed before the eyes of the astonished country folk of the nearby burg, who vaguely wondered whether it was a lynching or an Easter egg hunt.

HUNT
Fullback

The Red and Black encountered little consistent opposition, but Elon had the advantage of weight, fought hard when the goal was in danger, and aided by the brevity of the quarters, was able to hold back Coach Monk's cohorts to three touchdowns. Hendrix, Black, Shepherd and DeArmon was the combination the Wildcat mentor used to advance the ball. Shepherd, Hendrix and DeArmon were old hands with Davidson, while "Wick" Black had the advantage of growing up in the Wildcat city of Davidson.

WILDCATS 3—P. C. OF S. C. 0

In the bowl at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, the Wildcats and Bluestockings met one sunny September afternoon for their fourth battle on the gridiron.

The sun sank from view and the watch ticked off the fleeting seconds of the contest. Less than three minutes of play remained. The relentless Wildcat march had slowly driven the Bluestockings back to their 10-yard line. Then "Popsy" Hunt, who had been sitting on the sidelines during the fray, was injected into the contest. Signals were called and "Wick" Black dropped to his knees on the 20-yard line. The ball was snapped back, poised in Black's hands for an instant, and then "Popsy's" toe sent the ball hurtling over the center of the crossbar. The Wildcats had won, 3-0.

The rest of the game was a series of futile forward passes in an attempt to snatch victory from the Wildcats. The Wildcats gained possession of the ball on downs as the whistle blew.

Throughout the early part of the game the honors were even. Neither side threatened seriously in the first half. Early in the third quarter the Wildcats rushed the ball to the 13-yard line. The Palmetto lads held for downs on the 5-yard line and the ball went over. After punting, P. C. intercepted a Davidson pass and rushed the ball to the 14-yard line. Hindman's dropkick went wide by inches. The rest of the time neither side secured the advantage.

WILDCATS 0—V. P. I. 7

With two victories to their credit, a determined squad of men entrained for V. P. I. to show the Gobblers that it was more than breaks that had made the 7-7 tie the year before. The result was heart-rending. Outweighed seventeen pounds to the man, the Wildcats gave back more blows than they took, and fought the heavier V. P. I. eleven to the end. An intercepted pass by Moss in the second stanza spelled the only score of the day. In the last half the Wildcats battled hard for a tie, but were stopped by a stone-wall defense on the 10-yard line. It was a hard game to lose, but every Wildcat covered himself with glory. The Roanoke News remarked that the "Tarheels put up the best exhibition of defensive ball seen here in many years," and the Associated Press said that "The Wildcats outplayed Tech both on the offensive and the defensive." It was a great game between two fighting, scrapping teams.

WILDCATS 7—CITADEL 0

Worn by the terrific battle with V. P. I., the Red and Black had an off-day in the first game on the new Richardson Athletic Field. It was the first game with Citadel in four years, and with the Bulldogs fighting to upset the dope, and Coach Monk's squad working hard for a victory in the christening exhibition, the contest was bitterly fought from the start. The first half was a no-decision bout, with frequent punts and a fumble or two for variety. In the first few minutes of the second half an interchange of punts gave the ball to the Cats on the 34-yard line. Two plays through the line counted for nice gains, and a 10-yard pass, Hendrix to Baker, resulted in a 16-yard advance. The ball was on the 6-yard line and the tension was terrible. Shepherd hit center for one yard. Second down, five to go. "Wick" Black drove like a battering ram for a couple of yards for the spread formation. Two to go. "Wick" hit the line again and the score was Davidson 6, Citadel 0. Shepherd kicked goal for the only other point of the afternoon. It was the high-water mark of the season. Three victories and a glorious defeat promised a great season. The Wildcats' goal line had not been crossed from scrimmage. The team looked good, but bad breaks, injuries, and a hard schedule made the rest of the season a list of defeats.

WILDCATS 0—WAKE FOREST 6

Coach Garrity's Princeton system spelled defeat for the Wilcat team on Wearn Field in Charlotte. The 6-0 score sent state championship hopes glimmering and cast a cloud of gloom over the "Hill." Greason, the speedy Baptist halfback, broke through the Wilcat line on a reverse tackle play and stiff-armed and dodged his way 48 yards for a touchdown. The winning score came the first quarter, and allowed the Wildcats plenty of time to fight back before the game was lost. It was useless. Wilcat fumbles and Wake Forest strategem combined to stop the Davidson drives, and throw the Red and Black on the defense. A herculean fight in the shadow of the goal posts was all that kept the Baptist score down to the single marker. Shepard and Black were as usual the chief ground gainers for the Red and Black. Rackley and Greason featured for the sons of "Wake."

Furman's Purple Hurricane swept their way to a 30-point triumph on the State Fair Grounds in Columbia. A small crowd was present to witness the fray. It was a game of upsets, and gains favored the Baptists. The first half gave no hint of the carnage which was to follow in the final period of the play. The Wilcat line, weakened by the loss of Boggs, was further weakened when Sam Summers was forced out on account of a wrenched ankle. Doc DeArmon was out of the backfield, and Gig Shepard was knocked silly in the first five minutes of play. He all but beat Furman single handed the previous year. Coleman blocked Shepherd's punt in the opening period on the 16-yard line. Poteat and Waters made it first down in four plays. Then on the third play Carter made a touchdown. Score: Davidson 0, Furman 6. The score remained 6-0 the first half.

The Wildcats released a drive which carried the ball to Furman's 20-yard line as the half ended. Early in the third quarter, Carter blocked Laird's punt and went for a touchdown. This seemed to take all the pep out of the Wildcats, and Furman battering rams tore through the line, time after time, piling up two more touchdowns and a field goal. Captain Faison played a stellar game for the Wildcats.

WILDCATS 6—STATE 12

bles were the direct cause of the Tiger victory. Clemson scored late in the initial period after a bad pass had made a punt impossible, giving the Tigers the ball on Davidson's 10-yard line. Late in the final period came the second touchdown, after Davidson misplays had given Clemson the ball within scoring distance. The bright spot in Davidson's attack came in the opening quarter, when Hendrix slipped around end 27 yards only to fumble the ball with a clear field ahead. Clemson recovered the ball. The Tigers held the edge in ground gained and first downs, taking advantage of every Wildcat misplay.

Vance, in the line, played a stellar game for the Red and Black. On one occasion he stopped a Tiger drive on the one-yard mark, the ball going over on downs. The Wildcat defense was working in brilliant fashion throughout the game. Captain Faison as usual played a wonderful game at end. Wells played a brilliant game at half.

Sweeping the Tar Heels off their feet in the opening period, the Wildcats marched down Emerson Field and stopped in the shadow of the goal posts, changed their tactics. Popsy Hunt's toe was called on for the second time during the season, and for the second time he sent the ball hurtling over the uprights. No Wildcat team ever displayed better team work or more clocklike precision in running off plays. The Tar Heels seemed powerless to stop them until the goal line was almost reached. Once in the second, and once in the final period, the Tar Heels, not to be denied, battered their way across the Wildcat goal line. Bonner led the attack. The Wildcats had numerous chances to score, but Fate seemed against them. The game ended with Davidson on Carolina's 7-yard line and three downs to go. Davidson gained 260 yards to Carolina's 230, made 12 first downs to Carolina's 14, outpunted Carolina, and carried the battle to Carolina territory during the major part of the game. Wells led the Wildcats in ground gaining with 77 yards. Hendrix gained 52, Black 42, Buck Sappenfield 23, Hunt 18, Davis 10, Covington 6. Five Davidson regulars did not start the game. Summers, Laird, DeArmon, Fields and Shepherd were missing from the line-up. Tom Baker was also out of the game. On the opening kick-off, Hodgkin had his left leg broken above the ankle. Despite the handicaps, the Red and Black Machine played the best game of the season. The interference on the end runs and off-tackle plays paved the way for the Wildcat gains.

Trinity recovered the ball on the 2-yard line and smashed over for a touchdown. Another counter was added in the second period. In the third quarter Shepard punted to Shipp, who fumbled, Long recovering for Davidson and racing to the 3-yard line, when he was forced out of bounds. Black carried the ball over for the touchdown. Late in the fourth period of the game, Shipp raced 40 yards around end for the final score. For the Wildcats, Hendrix played well. Long recovered the fumble which led to the Davidson touchdown. Freshman Season 1923

COACH RAWSON

The second Freshman football team in the history of Davidson, under the tutelage of C. W. Rawson, University of Georgia star in three sports, ended the 1923 season with three victories, one tie and two defeats, scoring 66 points against their opponents' 47. Besides the scoreless tie with Furman, the Yearlings failed in only one game to put the oval over for a touchdown, while ending the season in great style with 34-0 victory over Oak Ridge.

In the first game of the season, Charlotte, high school champions of North Carolina, were defeated 6-0 in a thrilling comeback in the last minute of play.

Furman sent her One-Year-Olds to Richardson Field for the only collegiate game on the Hill, and though outplayed by the Davidson youngsters, they went back with a scoreless tie.

Outplayed on both offense and defense, the Presbyterian College Freshmen team went down in defeat before the Davidson Freshmen, the 18th of October, 12-0. The P. C. lads came back in the last half with great fight, but were held from scoring.

Although outweighed over 15 pounds to the man, the Wildkittens put up the superior game with the N. C. State yearlings, at Pinehurst, on November 1st, only to lose when the State Fresh fumbled 10 yards from Davidson's goal and fell on the ball when it rolled across the last white line.

Two weeks later the Fresh journeyed down to Orangeburg to be defeated 41-14 by the powerful University of South Carolina first-year squad. For the only game of the season Davidson was outplayed, but the Presbyterians threw a scare into the Palmetto camp when they scored two touchdowns in the last half. But for several costly breaks, the margin would have been much closer.

Opening up from the first minute of play and clipping off gains of from 10 to 15 yards with apparent ease, the entire Freshman squad smothered the Oak Ridge bunch under a 34-0 score in the final game, at Statesville. The game demonstrated the form and power developed by Coach Rawson. The special football issue of The Davidsonian, speaking of the Freshman coach's work, says: "The Fresh have made a record this year, and it is due to the hard work that Rawson has put out."

CRAWFORD
Captain

WITH only four letter men as a nucleus, Coach Buck Currie, with Dutch Hengeveld as an assistant, was confronted with the task of rounding into shape a Wildcat baseball nine. Pat Crawford (Captain), Bascomb Sorrells, Boushee and Marion Brice were the four men. Pat occupied the initial sack, Bascomb and Boushee were twirlers, and Brice was stationed at the receiving position. These veterans constituted a good quartette, around which Coach Buck and Dutch Hengeveld were to build their team. When the last man had trotted across home plate, and the final compilation made, the result shows nine games won and six lost.

A review of the record shows some close games played, while others were ragged. Perhaps the most exciting of the fifteen contests were the State-Davidson game and the Trinity-Davidson battle, both of which resulted in a 1-0 victory for Davidson's opponents. In the disastrous column may be placed the games with Carolina and the University of Virginia. The first game of the contest mentioned above was played on Sprunt Field, with Neely Hunter and Harry Curtis opponents on the mound. It was a pitchers' battle right. Boushee and Sanderson, star twirler of Trinity, engaged in a similar duel at Trinity, with the same result.

The Wildcat nine had a new experience, that of playing a game with snow on the ground. This took place on the Virginia trip, and whether the results of the visit can be laid to this fact is not known. It is known, however, that the Red and Black met defeat at the hands of the teams they met.

SORRELLS

BOUSHEE
Captain-elect

The season opened at Easter on Sprunt Field, with a brace of games with Oak Ridge. These prep lads have a reputation for a fast baseball nine, and the same remains undisputed. They copped the first game of the season from the Wildcats, the score being 6-5. Bascomb Sorrells pitched for Davidson in this game. The following day the tables were reversed, though, and Coach Buck's cohorts won from Oak Ridge by a one-point margin, with Boushee on the mound.

As it has been aptly expressed by one writer, it might be well to draw a curtain over the Carolina-Davidson scrap, which was played in Gastonia the Monday following Easter. The Chapel Hill sluggers amassed eight runs in the second inning of the game, the final result being 12-5. Neely Hunter began the game, but he was not in form, and when Neely was not right, he was landed right and left for hits that counted. Boushee relieved him in the second inning, and should the scoring after the disastrous second inning be taken into consideration Davidson might be credited with the game, 5-4. Boushee's holding down of the Tar Heels was remarkable, for only one day had elapsed since he had defeated Oak Ridge. Frank Alford lifted the ball over the fence for the first homer by a Davidson man. Aside from the second inning, this game would have been a good one.

Returning to the Hill the Wildcats somewhat redeemed themselves by putting up a stiff fight against N. C. State. Neely Hunter pitched one of the prettiest games of the season, and in addition to this made one of the three hits that

HUNTER

Davidson was able to touch Harry Curtis for. It was a pitchers' battle if there ever was one. An error in the sixth, followed by a double, gave the lone tally of the game to the Techmen. Pat Crawford at the first corner played a great game. The entire team gave air-tight, machine-like support, and but for the one error, the contest might have gone on for many innings.

Having dropped three of the first four games to opponents, the Red and Black machine took on a new spirit, and won the next five games. Wofford was the first prey, going down under a 4-1 defeat. Boushee and Murph were matched against each other. Murph was considered Wofford's ace, but the Wildcat sluggers proved too much. Davidson scored in the first frame, was tied by Wofford in the fourth, but in the next few innings the former sent three more counters across the home platter. In the ninth, with three men on any only one out, it seemed as if Wofford was coming back and would turn victory into defeat for the Wildcats, but a fast double play, Boushee to Brice to Crawford, ended the game. Boushee only allowed five hits, and in addition made two for Davidson. Siôn Alford made two safeties, one of them a three-bagger, and Dick Richards had two safeties by his name.

The day following was an epoch-making event. Wofford suffered an even greater defeat, 7-0. Neely Hunter pitched, and pitch he did. Never was he in better form, either. When the scorer compiled his totals, Neely had turned in a no-hit game, the only one pitched by a Wildcat during the season. Not content with his superior work on the mound, Neely sent one high out over left field, and when those in the stands saw it disappear behind the fence, they went wild. It was the first home run that had been made on 8-4 score. Following his experience with the Wildcat football squad he may have hoped for revenge on the diamond, but he went back defeated. The game was played during a cloudy afternoon, and was broken up in the eighth by rain.

The South Carolina trip resulted in a split of honors, the Wildcats winning the Clemson battle, 3-2, and dropping the Wofford fracas to the Terriers, 10-4. In the game with the Tigers no Freshmen were allowed to play, which necessitated a few changes in the Wildcat lineup, but despite this they played a stellar game, resulting in a victory. Bascomb Sorrells let the Tigers down for only four hits, and nine of

COVINGTON

Sprunt Field since 1911. In addition to this Neely further augmented his glory by laying down a sacrifice and slamming out a two-bagger. Richards and Covington both made two hits, and S. Alford added another three-bagger to his list.

Elon was the next victim, the game ending, 9-4. McLaughlin started the game, but due to his unsteadiness, was relieved by Sorrells in the second inning. Bascomb showed his mettle, and permitted only one tally to trickle across in the seven innings he was twirling. Perhaps the greatest exhibition of hitting ability was demonstrated in this game by Ted Covington, who made four hits in four trips to the plate. He slammed out a triple, a double and two singles, a total of seven bases. It is very rare that any player hits a thousand in a game, no matter who the pitchers may be.

Coach Monk Younger brought his diamond outfit down to Sprunt Field, and whether it was a surprise or not, the Virginia Techmen were turned away the loser by an their batsmen whiffed the air. Pat Crawford had a homer chalked up to his credit, sending one over the centerfield fence. All of the Davidson runs came in the early stages of the game, the Clemson twirler, Davis, tightening and holding the Wildcats scoreless after the fourth inning. This game saw two southpaw pitchers matched against each other.

The Wofford game ended 10-4 in their favor. McLaughlin, a Freshman, was used in this game throughout, with Murph as his opponent. While Davidson touched Murph for as many runs at Wofford, as on Sprunt Field, the Terriers were at the same time mounting up their score.

With five out of the last six games to their credit, the Red and Black machine set out for a trip through the Old North State. In the first game at Raleigh Neely Hunter reaped revenge for the 1-0 defeat at Davidson by winning from the Techmen, 9-6. The game was won with six runs in the seventh inning, when Allen was sent to the showers.

The next day the Wildcats encountered Trinity. The Methodists were rated as one of the best teams in the South, and it was expected that they would trample the Wildcats by a large score. The Davidson nine upset the dope, though, and were defeated by the small score of 1-0. It was a good game, and the fastest played of the season, only a few minutes over an hour being necessary for the contest. Sanderson let the Wildcats down without a hit, while Boushee allowed only six men to reach first.

The strain of the State and Trinity matches told on the Wildcats, and Elon won a victory by a 2-1 margin in the last game of the trip. Davidson's only score was a home run by S. Alford in the first inning. At the start it looked like a Davidson victory, but the final score told a different tale.

After a day of practice on Sprunt Field the Davidson defenders took a leap into Virginia to meet the University, V. M. I., and V. P. I. The first inning of the Virginia game was a repetition of the second frame of the Carolina fracas. When the smoke cleared away the Virginians had pushed over eight runs, and Hunter was sent to the bench. Sorrells pitched the remainder of the game, but the Virginians had on their batting eyes and scored six more in the next seven innings. Five runs for the Red and Black in the eighth kept a bad defeat from being a rout. All teams have their day, but May 7th was not Davidson's.

It was in the V. M. I. game that the Wildcats experienced their snowstorm baseball game. The day was cold, and the entire game was played while snow was steadily falling. Errors were frequent, and the Cadets won, 5-4. Boushee pitched for the Red and Black.

The V. P. I. Gobblers were out for revenge following their defeat on Sprunt Field, and they were able to turn in an 8-3 win over Neely Hunter. The weather was still disagreeable at the time of this contest.

The team returned from the disastrous Virginia trip, and on the following day met Guilford on Sprunt Field. Sorrells was in fine shape, and the Wildcats were thawed out and completely renovated. The score was 8-0 in Davidson's favor.

The final game of the season was played with Trinity, with Sanderson and Boushee again matched against each other. Sanderson, who before had held the Wildcats hitless, was sent to the showers, and the game ended with a 4-3 victory for Davidson.

Whether the season can be termed successful is left with the reader. Nine games won and six lost is the result. With the exception of two slumps, the Wildcats would have come out with almost all victory. But slumps are all in the game, and come in for the final reckoning.

DAVIS, Captain

HE Wildecat season of 1924 was not an altogether successful one. Ten games were won and eight were lost, but five of the victories were against association teams. And in the intercollegiate varsity five were won and six lost.

It is not hard to account for the defeat of the Wildcats in the state collegiate games when Carolina won the S. I. C. tournament with four victories by larger scores than her games with the Wildcats, Trinity, or Wake Forest; it means that the Old North State was carrying a particularly high brand of basketball. The Wildcats had a good, hard-scrapping team, and in almost any other state in the South would have been a winner.

The 1924 squad showed many familiar faces. Two captains of former years, War Horse Mauze and Pat Crawford, were gone, but Laird (F), Staley (F), Boggs (G), McConnell (G), and Captain Davis (C), were all back from the 1923 team. These five, with Sapp (G), a first year man, composed the first-string quint, while Mallory (F), and Beall (F), rendered valuable service in the pinches.

The 1924 quint always played a hard game. They sometimes started slow, but picked up with a rush. Sometimes they played a championship brand of ball, but unfortunately they also had a few bad nights. As a result the season was a checkered one. But when it had all cleared away the Wildcats had marked up 552 points to 480 for the opponents.

MALLORY

Notwithstanding that the '24 season was only a fair one, prospects for next year are bright. Coach Younger will have his eye on the weak spots and will have the advantage of working with a squad he knows thoroughly. All of the 1924 squad will be back for another toss at the steel hoop.

The first item on the Cats' menu was the visit of the Concord team. The game was a walk-away, 49-6, although nine men were given a chance against the opposition. T. F. Staley started off his drive for high-point honors with a total of 16 points. The last half was a 30-0 score for Davidson.

After the initial picnic Coach Younger's five went down to the Queen City and lost a hot game 26-20. A few minutes of lucky long shots spelt defeat for the Red and Black. Most of the game it was nip and tuck with the Wildcats a point or two in the lead during the first half. Laird was high-point man.

BEALL

The next association game, with the Statesville A. A. was a 36-14 victory for the Wildcats. The game was played up in Iredell. "Sook" Boggs was a feature with a total of 9 points from his standing guard position. T. F. Staley rang up an even decem. Score: Davidson 22, Opponents 14.

Then came Carolina. It was a beautiful game in the Charlotte auditorium. Always Carolina was a little ahead, but never out of reach. The first half ended 25-17 but in the middle of the last period Davidson pulled within 3 points of the Southern champs. The excitement was intense and for a while it looked like a Red and Black victory. But the strain was too great and for the last ten minutes Davidson could not make a point while the Tar Heels ran the score up to 37-27. "Red" Laird made 13 points and Staley 8. As usual "Sook" Boggs' guarding was a feature.

BOGGS

Then came exams and for a week or two there was work in the clan of the Cat. This inactivity told in the first post-exam game and it was only a last minute spurt that enabled Coach Younger's cohorts to win from the Belmont American Legion 31-28. The Belmont team was composed of ex-college stars, but the game throughout was mediocre.

The next game was with Guilford. The Quakers were always a hard quint to beat but with "Sook" guarding the game of his life the visitors were held to 23 points while the Red and Black rang up 33.

Another trip to Charlotte resulted in the loss of another important game. Trinity got the better edge of a 40-30 score. The first half was a walk-away for the Methodists, 22-11. In the latter half the Wildcats fought back on even terms but could not pull down the lead. Staley and Sapp together made 20 of the Wildcats' points.

Then came a series of victories. Florida, Lenoir, N. C. State, and South Carolina visited the Hill and travelled back defeated. The Florida game was slow and ragged and the crowd yawned at intervals though at times the roughness of the games awoke illegitimate interest. The final score was 34-22.

Lenoir was another victory but not much of a game. Davidson missed many easy shots and ought to have had more than a 34-21 margin. Staley, with 19 points, was the bright light of the game.

N. C. State dropped a 24-13 that was a fine exhibition of A-1 guarding. It was Boggs' big day on the defense with Staley and McConnell leading the Cats' offense.

LAIRD

McCONNELL

STALEY

The South Carolina game was the high point of the 1924 season. The Gamecocks came with a reputation and left without it. A big crowd packed the gym and the din was terrible every time the Red and Black rang the circle. The whole Davidson team looked good. The final score was 35-29.

Then came disaster with a row of five defeats. The less said the better. The night after the South Carolina game Wake Forest took a game into tow 32-22. The Baptists had a veteran team and an air-tight defense. Staley was off form, but Laird rang up 9 points. All of the enemy played a great game.

The Charlotte "Y" return game was a fiasco. Charlotte won 37-23, before a sleepy crowd.

Then the Wildcats left on the only extensive trip of the schedule—a three-day tour of the state. Wake Forest won the first game 33-16. Staley was again off form and Laird made most of the Wildcats' points.

The next night State took revenge for the earlier game and won 39-33, in an extra period game. "Spec" McConnell ran wild netting 12 points, but a regiment of fouls won for the engineers.

Then came Guilford, and J. G. Frazier scored 26 points, more than the Wildcats put together. The final result was 37-25. It was the last game on the trip and the Red and Black trailed back discomfited.

Two victories over association teams closed the season. Belmont was beaten 33-28 and Statesville A. A. 44-13. A contemplated state meet did not materialize and the 1924 season was over—neither the best nor worst of Davidson seasons.

GALLOWAY
Captain

F ever a losing team was a credit to Davidson, the 1923 track team was that—although winning only one of three meets and placing third in the State Olympic Meet does not add much to the prowess of Coach Gray's last bunch of cinder packers the fact that four records were bettered in as many events must mean that the team's work was stellar in some respects and moves the balance over to the credit side. This in itself is a new record in record-breaking at Davidson and at least adds that distinction to the 1923 track squad. New high water marks were set up in the pole vault, high jump, mile run, and javelin throw. Coach Gray's best material was in the field events, four of the five letter men back being in that department, and the lack of material in the track events accounts for the poor showing the team made. Galloway, captain of the squad, was back on the job and held down the middle distances fairly well, but with the exception of McConnell, who broke the college record in the mile run, was the only runner who was able to come through a consistent point-winner. McConnell, out for track for the first time, was the sensation of the season, bettering the college mile run record by four seconds in the State Olympianic meet. In the field events Streibich moved the pole vault record up to 11 feet, Calhoun raised the high jump to 5 feet 11½ inches, and McComb bettered his own record in the javelin throw, setting the new mark at 158 feet 8 inches.

DAVIDSON vs. SOUTH CAROLINA

The season opened with a close win over the University of South Carolina. In a slow meet, held in a cold drizzling rain, at Columbia, S. C., the Red and Black track aggregation put it over the Gamecocks 57 2-3 to 54 1-3 by holding their own in the track events and excelling in the field events. Even this first meet brought out the Wildeats weakness in track events and but for first and second places in the three events the tale would be different. The Wildeats, with Gracey, Streibich, and Lindamood doing stellar work, jumped into the lead when the meet opened with field events, but South Carolina closed a wide gap and took the lead by a small margin by winning a number of firsts in the track events. Davidson was finishing a close second in most of the runs, however, and Carolina was able to show no great difference.

The last event was a javelin throw, and first and second place by McComb and Gracy respectively copped the meet for the Wildeats. Streibich and Gracy were Davidson's best bets accounting for 22 of the 57 points, Gracy leading the meet with 13 points for two firsts and a second.

DAVIDSON vs. N. C. STATE

The following week-end saw Davidson travelling up to N. C. State to return home on the short end of an 88 to 38 score. In cold weather and a drizzling rain State's Engineers took the Wildcats into camp showing superiority in almost every event. Davidson was outclassed in the weight events and hence unable to overcome her disadvantage in track events. Excitement marked the meet with the Red and Black tracksters making State fight hard for their decisive win. Gracy and Streibich assumed the responsibility of Davidson's load and produced 8 points each with one first and a second each. McComb broke his own javelin record of the year before, by a little over a foot but was forced to accept a second place at 158 feet 8 inches. McConnell missed a first place in the mile run by inches after speeding from last to second place on the final straightaway.

GRACEY

The South Carolina sprinters and distance men were too much for the Wildcats, who were forced to content themselves with an occasional second and a number of third places. Galloway showed good form, contributing a number of Davidson's points.

STATE OLYMPIC MEET

Davidson entered the State Olympic Meet in Chapel Hill with 8 men and emerged with third place, notwithstanding the fact that her squad numbered only half as many as that of any of her opponents. The final rating was as follows: Carolina, first; N. C. State, second; Davidson, third; and Trinity, fourth. Davidson's time records in the State meet were good and it was exceptional that McConnell although setting a new Davidson record in the mile run finished second in the race. In all the track events un-

CALHOUN

Davidson lost the last meet of the season to Clemson 78½ to 33½. In their own back yard, with the weather ideal for a meet, the Red and Black knights of the cinder circuit went down after a hard fight before one of the best track teams in the South. The Tigers showed decided superiority in almost every event, the Davidson men making the meet thrilling by hard runs for second places. The strength of Davidson's opponents can be reckoned by considering the fact that two Davidson records were broken and a third tied in this decided defeat. Under ideal weather conditions Coach Gray's cohorts were showing their best form but the team that doubled Georgia's and the U. N. C's. combined score in a triangular meet was too much for them. McConnell tied the Davidson record in the mile but was forced to accept second place in the race. Streibich, Calhoun and McComb ran up new records in the pole vault, high jump, and the javelin throw, producing three of Davidson's first places and accounting for a majority of our scoring.

usually fast time was made but the others were just a little better. Gracey, Streibich, and Calhoun were the main point gatherers, Gracey leading with 7 points on a first and second. Davidson can well afford to be proud of the showing made by her sons against state-wide opposition.

TRACK SQUAD, 1923

Tennis Team

S. H. BRADLEY
H. B. PRICE

M. S. BEALL
T. F. STALEY

HE tennis season for 1923 has been very successful on the whole. Davidson has won four matches played, tied one and lost one.

The first meet of the season was with Clemson, in which the Davidson team, composed of Bradley, Staley, Beall and Price, defeated the Clemson team 6-0 in matches. A Virginia trip resulted in a 3-3 tie with V. P. I., a 5-0 victory over V. M. I., and a 4-2 victory over the strong Washington and Lee team.

At the state meet held the second week in May, Hugh Bradley, for Davidson, won for the second consecutive time the state championship from Jernigan, of Carolina. Bradley's playing featured the entire season, for he faced some of the strongest college players in the South and won every match of the season. Staley reached the semi-finals in the state meet, while Staley and Bradley climbed to the finals in doubles, there to lose in a hard match with Carolina's team. The last meet of the spring was with Carolina, in which Carolina won, 5-1, Bradley scoring his usual victory over Tench Cox, Carolina's best bet.

In the fall of 1923, Davidson defeated Wake Forest 6-0, on the local courts, Trotter taking Bradley's place on the team.

Wrestling Team

RESTLING at Davidson has this year made its strongest bid for popularity and success. Winning three out of six matches and proving its drawing power by well attended meets on the Hill, the youngest sport at Davidson, under the tutelage of Captain Weems, stellar grappler from West Point, has come into its own. In terms of comparison this year's wrestling season has been a great success. The sport for the first time has had the services of a coach, sufficient equipment, abundant material and a full schedule, and these advantages have given Davidson College their first winning lot of mat artists. Especially has the effective and efficient work of Coach Weems contributed to the upbuilding of the sport.

The schedule opened with Concord "Y", on the Hill, and a decisive win for the Wildcats, with a 21 to 0 score. The match was featured by the lightning work of the Patterson brothers. Carolina invades the Wildcat lair and goes back to Chapel Hill with a 5 to 3 win, one week after the Concord "Y" fray. On the first road trip V. P. I. was trounced 16 to 11, in the fastest match of the season. Cromartie broke a second tie by entering in two weights and winning both. The next match, with the Trinity Blue Devils, on the Wildcats' home carpet, resulted in a Davidson win, 8 to 5. On the second road trip Carolina comes off victorious by a 13 to 3 win, Davidson's only points coming from Selser's time decision in the opening match.

Completely outclassed by the victors of the Army, V. M. I. took the Wildcats into camp with a 21 to 0 defeat. Davidson was only able to get two draws in the lightweight classes, and from then on the Cadets had things their own way. Lindamood had time on Barbour, only to be rolled over a second before the referee's whistle. With this match the Wildcat mat schedule came to a close, and letters were awarded to the following men: Lindamood (Captain), Cromartie, Cox, W. D., Cox, L. P., Patterson, N. G., Vance, and Selser.

HONORARY FRATERNITIES

HONORARY Fraternities include in their membership only those who have attained prominent success in certain lines of activity. Their purpose is to inspire, in those who enjoy the privileges extended by them, an ambition to perfect their ability. Association with others who have the same ideals, and exchange of ideas with members more experienced, develop in the man just initiated a new determination, and open to him fields of vision and research unknown to him beforehand.

THE Dramatic Club has been as usual one of the very active organizations on the Hill. Although there was no trip made like that of last year, the work done here more than made up for this, and was of more genuine value to the men than that of any previous year. This is the fifth year of this phase of college activity, the club having been organized in the fall of 1920 under the direction of Prof. E. J. Erwin, who has worked tirelessly and patiently to develop dramatic talent among the students, and with great success.

The first performance of the Dramatic Club this year was during Pan-Hellenic Week in November, when three one act plays, all written by local talent were given. "The Cretans," by W. F. Galloway, "Out o' Goodness," by L. D. Elkins, and "Why, Pierrot" written by Prof. E. J. Erwin. The latter was a musical comedy, calling for the assistance of six young ladies chosen from among our village beauties. The characterization of this play was especially good with Watt McCain and Dorothy Finlayson in the roles of Pierrot and Pierette. Three more one-act plays were given during Junior Week and a Minstrel at Commencement, both running smoothly.

To Prof. F. L. Dendy should go credit for his helpful supervision in directing the club, especially in the art of good characterizations. Prof. E. J. Erwin is, as usual, the main cog in Davidson's dramatic life, and too much can't be said in praise of his work with the club.

THIS year the Glee Club has without a doubt been the outstanding organization on the campus. Of course Davidson has always had a Glee Club but never before has there been one to compare with that of this year. Credit for this is due very largely to Mrs. Coral Hayner Baker, who trained the club for its season's work. The organization is also indebted to Dr. W. J. Martin for providing half the funds necessary to obtain so splendid a trainer. However, most of the responsibility for the success falls to Ted Jones, President and Director who worked unceasingly to produce a glee club of which Davidson would be proud.

A new item was instituted in the activities and social calendar by the leader, in the form of Stunt Night, which was held on Nov. 13. This had the double purpose of an entertainment and gave opportunity to locate additional material for the club. Stunts mostly in the form of musical combinations, dramatic features and acrobatic manipulations presented a varied program. Prof. E. J. Erwin, director of the Dramatic Club, assisted in the coaching, and Stunt Night, held during Pan Hellenic Week, was a decided success.

The personnel of the Glee Club, after a careful selection was composed of 25 men, and with Mrs. Baker directing, they set in to hard work. After three performances in nearby towns, the club started on a very extensive tour on December 4th. This itinerary was the largest ever attempted by any Davidson Glee Club, and included seven performances in North Carolina, two in South Carolina and three in Georgia. Stops were made at several girls colleges, Queens, Anderson, Converse, Brenau, Shorter and Agnes Scott, which gave the club quite a reputation among the fair ones.

In Atlanta the club gave a radio concert over W. S. B., of the Atlanta Journal after the Agnes Scott performance, and many friends have since written how much they enjoyed listening in. The Davidson Alumni Association of Atlanta gave the boys a luncheon at the Ansley Hotel, and Miss Ida Wells, Sponsor for the Glee Club, entertained in the Tea Room at the foot of Stone Mountain.

With some minor changes in the personnel of the club during the spring, it still continued to be a great credit to its trainers. Several performances were put on, in Charlotte, Lexington and Lenoir, with the club carrying off high honors each time.

The Glee Club was a great success, and was hailed everywhere as one of the best in the South. As a medium of entertainment it was peerless and as an advertising feature for Davidson College it would have been hard to beat. Surely we are proud of it and we hope that we may have fully as good a club next year.

THE Davidsonian, weekly publication, is the official organ of the college and student body. It is the medium through which the news of student and alumni activity is published.

The Davidsonian was founded by the class of 1915. It was christened "The Livest Wire on the Hill," and ever has it lived up to the that name. In its infancy the "little college sheet" embarked on a policy of progressive service. During the ten years of its existence it has waged an active campaign in this interest, and has been one of the potent factors in making a "Bigger and Better Davidson."

With the development of the college the Davidsonian has enjoyed a phenomenal growth. It has been the aim of the board of editors of 1923-1924 to make "The Livest Wire on the Hill" the "Best All-Round College Weekly in Dixie." To this end every effort has been made to strengthen the paper in every way—editorially, in news value, in service to the student government and all student activities, and from a business standpoint.

SINCE its foundation in 1886 the Davidson College Magazine has been the entrepot of embryo literary masterpieces on the campus. In its early years its tone was much more serious than it is today. There were deep discussions of books and bookmen and not a few select poems from the immortals. Of late the policy has changed, the joke department has risen and fallen and risen again until now it is a recognized division called Cap and Bells.

The Magazine seemed to be in its death struggle when a competent Business administration put it on its feet this year. With the impetus of a good year behind it, the future of this publication seems to insure a bigger and better Magazine for Davidson College.

THE Quips and Cranks is the Year Book, published annually, by and for the Senior Class of Davidson College. A volume depicting the years of hard work, of purposeful effort, made even more worthwhile by friendship with brother students with whom in consequence has been developed that comradeship that is the product of a common alma mater. To the class of '24 this book is the tangible evidence of a perpetual bond. To those who have preceded us, this publication will probably bring back memories, and to those who have not yet experienced the ways of a Senior, it will, we trust, in some measure picture their joys and sorrows.

ALWAYS there are some, in every undertaking, who work with no thought of recompense, but who nevertheless, are a vital part of it. Without the assistance of the contributors listed above it would have been impossible to have the annual out on time, and the editors extend to them much appreciation and thanks for their hard work and untiring efforts in aiding with the publication of this year's Quips and Cranks.

IN the Student Council lies the governing power of the Student Body made up of men selected by student body vote. Created by the constitution under which our student government functions, it makes possible the honor system that is the pride of every Davidson man. Every member acts well his part, knowing that his fellow student will back the action taken by the council, or will, in a fair referendum, change that decision. To be elected a member of this body is to be chosen one of those in whom Davidson men place confidence. Such is the faith of the student body in the council as a whole, and so swiftly is due punishment meted out by it, that student government at Davidson is a real and practical success.

WITH the forward step of abolishing hazing, the Court of Control came into being. Voted by the student body—that is, the three upper classes—as the best and most reasonable substitute for the old “board” method of control, it has proven its worth. It has inspired in the freshmen a desire to live up to the regulations imposed on them, and as it were, has merited the confidence of the freshmen by trusting and having confidence in them. There has been no hazing at Davidson this year, and still a spirit of co-operation and pep has been shown by the class of '27, all of which proves that the student body did well in establishing the Court.

THE object of the Association is to promote Christian growth, fellowship, and earnest living among the members of the student body; to guard against error and oppose vice; and especially to carry on active and aggressive work for Christ in the college and community.

All students not already active members of the Young Men's Christian Association automatically become members upon matriculation in the college; members of any one of the evangelistic churches become active members of the association, those not members of any church become associate members.

THE Davidson chapter of the International Relations Club is one of a number of such clubs distributed throughout American colleges and universities to enable those students interested in International affairs to come together and better understand the problems of the day. It is sponsored by an international organization of such clubs, and is aided by funds from the Carnegie Institute.

The club on the campus is composed of a group of selected Juniors and Seniors along with a few members of the faculty, who, feeling deeply sensible of the importance to college men of keeping up with world affairs, undertake, at regular meetings, and in co-operation with other clubs, to study those questions most pertinent to our nation's and the world's welfare.

Through speakers and other agencies the club keeps in touch with the problems of other countries, and its general purpose is to aid its members and the students at large to think internationally.

Intercollegiate Debating Chronicle

A FORWARD STEP in the advancement of forensic activities has been inaugurated during the present term, one that bids fair to inject new life into the work of the four literary societies. Heretofore, the weekly meetings followed the time-honored and traditional form of procedure, namely, that of a set program consisting of a debate, declamation, oration, with perhaps an added feature occasionally. Even the most interested ones in the societies became tired at times at the rather dull meetings, and listless preparation made by the speakers. It was evident that something would have to be done to regain the prestige of the literary society on the campus.

A plan submitted by the Alpha Phi Epsilon Literary Fraternity seemed to offer a solution to this problem. It consisted of a change in the literary society program; the doing away with the regular debate and speeches and instituting a Parliamentary plan of procedure. At the close of a meeting, two or more subjects were to be announced, being of general interest with a broad scope. At the next meeting, these subjects, or one specific subject was to be introduced to the house in the form of a bill, and the arguments pro and con to be heard concerning the advisability of accepting or throwing out the measure. The reviewer serves to choose those of the speakers whom he thinks merit a society credit by virtue of their preparation and deliverance of a speech that will serve to annul or pass the proposition before the house.

Each of the four societies keeps its own officers, with the organization worked out entirely on a Parliamentary basis. With the adoption of this proposed measure by the four societies at the first of the year, increased interest has been shown in the society work as well as all inter-society contests. The new order provides for a better understanding of Parliamentary law and order as well as a knowledge of intensive debating and arguing that will do much to train future speakers in public life. Thorough assimilating and digesting of material is required before a speaker can attack or further a proposed measure, with a security that comes from a clearly arranged mental outline of the fundamentals of the query. It is just this point that the new ruling has already done for the societies; that of preparation beforehand, and earnest effort while debating.

Upholding the record of never a defeat on the campus by an intercollegiate debating team, the Wildcats met the Washington and Lee debaters in Shearer Hall on December 14th and won the decision by a three and two vote of five judges. The question for debate was: Resolved. That the present immigration law should be re-enacted. M. C. Stith and A. H. Hillingsworth upheld the negative and brought honor to old Davidson by their crushing opposition of the offerings of the Generals' debaters, Ralph Masinger and Charles W. Lowry, Jr.

Opening the debate for the affirmative, Masinger reviewed the progress of immigration in the United States, outlining the present law and giving as his arguments that the negative could not argue without fallacy for the total restriction or open-door policy, and that some restriction was necessary. Stith, speaking first for Davidson argued that the present law is not selective as regards quality and methods of choosing immigrants to America. Then, too, that too few of the Nordic race are selected and more preference is given to the Southern European types. Lowry, second speaker for the affirmative tried to prove that the present law is adequate and theoretically sound, basing his proofs on the fair treatment allotted to every nation. Closing the negative side, A. H. Hollingsworth outlined the new plan of the negative, that of limiting the number of immigrants to two per cent of the population as based on the 1890 census, as it would automatically raise the percentage of the Northern European races and cutting the Southern European types to less than is their present quota.

The rebuttals were unusually spirited and full of pep. It was only after a close decision of the judges that the announcement was made that Davidson conquered. This last debate makes the record of Davidson stand, twenty won, and nine lost out of twenty-nine debates. This is a record that is held by few institutions and one of which Davidson students and alumni should feel a righteous pride.

Freshman debating has been entered upon this year, a triangular debate having been arranged with two other colleges. With the help of Professor Dendy, public speaking has once more assumed its former position on the campus and the future is expected to hold many things in store for the Wildcats' literary stars yet to come.

A delightful little affair in the form of an all-day rook party was carried out by Miss Lena Genster on last Friday, the 13th.

Miss Genster rooked her visitors in a charming manner throughout the occasion. Dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by her great-grandfather, beneath the cooling shade of the magnificent grove of pokcherry trees which surrounds the Genster home-place.

The menu consisted of cough-drops, Eskimo pie, and Sponge-cake.

After lunch the visitors were again rooked by their hostess. The prize, won by Miss Sawyer Duett, was a beautifully executed silk thermometer.

Mrs. Singer Nuther rendered a delightful solo, after which the guests departed.

Among those present were Misses May, Sawyer, and Willie Duett; Gladys Gone, Lotta Mush, May B. Good, and Mesdames Singer Nuther, Bill Rendered, Lily O. Thevally, Paul Bara, Owen Kale, and Max A. Differenz.

BALL-BEARING

The pitcher nervously wound up, unwound, and the sphere shot towards the tee where the waiting quarterback snatched it and working himself out of a combination toe-hold and hammerlock, dropped it neatly through the basket for a love game.

"First down," cried the umperee, as the vast throng, gathered to witness the affray, cheered themselves hoarse.

Rollo, the favorite of the Black and Blue, grabbed a niblick—"Serve," he gritted between both teeth, "I'll put it over the fence."

The end leaned over the old apple and suddenly passed. With grim visage Rollo grasped the pole and getting his stride rose into the air, grabbing the sphere as it shot from the hands of the end, and amid the roars of delirious fans, dropped over the goal for three points, just as the final whistle raag out from the judge's tower.

Moral: There's more ways of killing a feline than by feeding it crushed asbestos.

MY FRAT BROTHERS

They have blind-dated me with oil cans, they have used my clean shirts, worn out my socks, borrowed my books and never returned them, stole my toothpaste, broken my safety razor and used all extra blades, ate dinners on me when they were broke, borrowed money and never paid it back, made me drag them to bed when they were soaked, bullied me incessantly, paddled me when a pledge, and the only reason I am sticking around is that I am curious to know what in the — they are going to do next.

Dearest Kiddo:

It has always been a difficult thing for me to begin and end your letters. Sometimes I even have to get out all the letters that I have received from different men for the past two years and look thru them until I see something that sounds good. How do you like "Dearest Kiddo?" Real original and catchy, isn't it? Sort of like the "kiss me quick kid stuff"—real cave mannish, you know. And that reminds me, your little girlie went to a dance at the club last night with the cutest man you've ever seen. He had the cutest little dimples in his cheeks—and oh, how he could dance. He knows all the latest steps and holds you so tight. Oh, he was just TOO fascinating! Precious man, I love you so much! What do you think I've done—and just for you? Three guesses. NO! NO!! NO!!! I'll tell you. I went uptown with Harry this afternoon and reserved two tickets for "Djer Kiss"—on the second row and in the very middle! Isn't that wonderful? Don't forget the date—Friday night. We'll call at the box office and get the tickets. And oh, yes, precious, they aren't paid for yet. But let's get serious. You said in your letter today that you took Elizabeth to the movies last night. Dearest, don't you ever DARE do a thing like that again. Don't you remember how you said we belonged to each other and nobody would ever come between us? Just you and me. And then you go and take another girl out. I cried about it all last night. Please, please explain. And now, Sweetums, I must close—But remember always that I'll be the unhappiest little girlie in this world until you return to

Your own little girl,

A DISCOURSE ON ETIQUETTE

If this course on Table, Social and Business Etiquette is followed with diligence, many pointers on the art will be gleaned therefrom.

Table Etiquette

When entering the salle a manger always search hastily for the best place and make a dash for it. If this is done with poise and counter-balance it always raises a stir of approval from the throng. The best place is usually found at that place nearest the greatest amount of victuals. Never seat yourself where you will have to reach more than two yards for the food you wish.

When you have succeeded in attaining a place take your napkin (or handkerchief, if no napkin is furnished) gracefully in one hand and tie it neatly to the top button of your waist-coat. This should always be done with the greatest neatness and dispatch.

If you are asked to give thanks, always refuse calmly and bow your head. When thanks are being said, reach your right hand out and move the nearest plates of victuals toward you so you may be the first one to get the choicest parts. If someone grasps a plate before you, calmly take it away from him (or her) and say, "Shame!"

Never say a word until your plate is completely full and you have exactly one-tenth of it in your mouth, but then talk as you never have before. This plan is always applauded by the intellectual, for it is widely known to be the best way to get your food completely chewed. Remember while you are talking never to point with a bare fork, always spear a pickle or olive with it and then make flourishing gestures, keeping the right elbow firmly planted between your plate and your glass. Always hold your knife in your left hand while conveying food to your mouth, and if someone asks for the biscuits, never hand him less than two. If you are

QUESTION EVERY CULTURED DAVIDSON MAN SHOULD BE ABLE TO ANSWER

1. With which hand should the napkin be tucked under the collar?
2. What kind of nuts should be cracked with the teeth?
3. When should one place the spoon in the grape-fruit to avoid a shower bath?
4. What should you do when the waiter spills soup down your collar?
5. What is the correct angle which the elbow should make with the forearm when resting the forearm on the table?
6. Under what conditions may the ends of matches be used as toothpicks?
7. What precautions should one take when the gravy served does not match one's vest?
8. What is the proper sign to make if asked a question when the mouth is full?
9. Should pie be eaten with the knife or the spoon?
10. What hold should one have on the platter of chicken while the blessing is being asked?

DOUBT

If there would be no sorrow,

If there would be no sin
Along the ways of striving
That we must stumble in,
I wonder if we'd find things
Just as we think they'd be;
A Pollyanna diet

Would never do for me.

If we were back in Eden

Without a single care,

If men were always noble,

If girls were always fair,

If wives would turn from nagging

And husbands cease to curse,

Things might be whole lots better,

And yet—they might be worse.

ADVICE EVERY FRESHMAN SHOULD FOLLOW

WHEN OUT DATING

1. Always bide your fresh cap under the piano or behind the clock because her kid brothers might steal it to play "Indian" with.
2. In the winter time be sure to turn out the lights because they will injure your eyes and thereby prevent you from studying. You won't have to worry about this in the summer time because you can sit out on the porch and the moon can't.
3. Don't squeeze her too tight because the price of setting broken ribs is higher than it used to be.
4. Always be sure that you are fully capable of holding her before you take her on your lap because you don't want her to fall and hurt herself.
5. Always try to leave looking as near as possible like you did when you came, being sure that all foreign substances, such as powder, hair, etc., etc., is removed from the coat lapels, and that the face is not decorated with, etc.

(NOTE: For further instructions along this line see "Speedy" Carr or Ted Jones).

SAILSMANSHIP

Officer at Naval Training Station: "What did you mean by having them put you down as an ex-sailor on your qualification card? You don't know a rope's end from a belaying pin. Where did you get your experience as a sailor?"

Would-be Gob: "You can ask Ikey here. Ikey, wasn't we both salers in Eisenstein's department store for the last five years?"

TEAM WORK

John: "And I made the team, father! In the field!"

Farmer Kawnsilk: "A college eddication can't be beat—didn't I tell ye, Ma? I'll betcha John's the best plower in the township—and he's jest a softymore."

enjoying the food and have given out of things to talk about, you may whistle softly between your teeth. And remember never to talk when less than two are talking at the same time.

If you are uncertain which implement to use, always watch your host (or hostess) and take the opposite one on the opposite side of your plate or he (or she) will know he (or she) is being watched. The person at the head of the table is the host (or hostess) and if he (or she) waits too long to take an implement, you may grab the first one that comes to your mind and begin. This always saves time and it is best at all times to be the first one to finish a course. If you see anything that you are unable to eat at the time, but may be enjoyed at a later date, cram as much of it as possible into your pocket.

When the last course has been served and finished, place your left elbow in the exact center of your dessert plate and remember that it is always considered bad to cover your face with your napkin when picking your teeth. If no tooth-picks are furnished, you may use your fork.

Watch your host (or hostess) and if he (or she) folds his (or her) napkin you must wad yours in a neat ball and throw it at him (or her). If he (or she) does not fold the napkin, throw yours at the person sitting at his (or her) immediate right.

When you are completely through you must rise quickly and leave but do not say anything. It is no longer considered wrong if you fail to turn your chair over on arising, but it is always best to do so.

Social Etiquette

When you are walking on the street with a girl you must talk as loud as possible and never cease for any reason whatsoever. If she refuses to let you take her arm while crossing the street, you must act gruff and

THE MARRIAGE OF LIZA BROWN vs. HENRY BLUE

"Say, Mose, you sho' oughter been around to Bertha's house las' night." "Didn't you hear about it. Her sister, Liza, got married. Yassay, dey had a mos' scrumptious weddin. Yeah, she got married wid dat nocount nigger. You ought to seen him las' night. Dat nigger looked like de milky way at midnight. An when dat man laffed, why his mouth looked like de pearly gates wid some of de pearls missing. He says, 'Dere am three things in life; to be born, to be married, and to die! First you was born, now you are married, and you have nothing else to do now but to die.'"

"Yeah, dey had a feast. What you reckon all dem niggers was doing round here, anyway?" "Man! You bet dey was. Dat's why I'se limpin. When dey rung dat bell, Ooo! Dere was a big rush. take it anyhow, continuing to hold it after you have crossed the street. If she is carrying an umbrella and the weather is rainy, you must take it away from her and hold it over yourself, but if the weather is clear, you may let her keep it. When entering a street car with a girl always let her get on first and stand at a good distance behind her, but never shut your eyes; the same thing applies when she is mounting a ladder. Never take a girl into a drug store, etc., for too many sweets spoil their appetite and health.

At a dance when you have by chance gotten with an unpopular girl, you may leave her standing in the middle of the floor after any dance and always be sure when breaking in to pinch the elbow of the man dancing with the girl with whom you wish to dance, otherwise he may not feel it. If a boy refuses to let you break in because the girl does not like you, you may hit him in his left eye and dance with her anyhow—this always raises a stir of approval from the throng. On any occasion when introducing a boy to a girl, always spit twice and think three times, for it is a very grave undertaking; the words to be used while doing this are: "Mr. Blank, shake a mitt with Miss Blank."

Never offer a girl or young lady a cigar—she may take it. You must always carry a loaded pipe and offer it to her with a flourishing gesture. If she refuses, throw it away, and while smoking yourself never blow smoke in her face while she is looking.

Never kiss a girl's hand unless she gives you permission. You may kiss her anywhere else without permission.

When you see a girl you know but haven't seen for a long time, you must rush up to her and slap her on the back. If she refuses to recognize you, hit her in the jaw. When you have just been introduced to a girl, you must take her, as quickly as possible, away from the man who introduced you, and when you have found a suitable place, you may find if she is your type of girl—if she is not, you may get rid of her in the manner that seems quickest.

When someone commits a blunder in any way, always laugh loudly and make suitable comments, but if you commit one yourself, blame it on the person standing closest to you, and do not feel bad if that person happens to be a boy.

Business Etiquette

When you have a customer on the string, never pretend that you think he knows a thing about the thing that you are selling, and always contradict him in any statement that he makes. Always pick an argument with your customer and blow smoke in his face if he argues back. Never offer a customer a cigarette or a cigar or anything, but if he says he must go to lunch, etc., you may accompany him if you allow him to pay the bill. When you, by any chance, fail to sell a prospective customer, you must kick him out of the store and ask him to never return.

If someone else has gotten a customer first, you must rush up and jerk him away. If the customer or the other salesman resists, you may kick them both with suitable comments.

Never allow a customer to become disinterested and if he goes to sleep while you are talking to him, you must hit him over the head and tell him exactly what you think of him. If a customer tries to escape, you may hold him by any means necessary.

Never pretend to believe a word your customer says and every time he makes a remark you must sneer. If necessary for him to see what you think of him, you may tell him.

Tell as many lies about the thing you are trying to sell as you can think of because he won't believe you anyhow. If he ever makes any remark or sign that shows that he does not believe what you say, you must slap him and tell him he is ignorant. Always use plain language while talking to your customer, for he may take offense over the use of obsolete words and the like.

When you have accidentally sold something to a customer you must act offended and if you have used much of your valuable time in convincing him, it is always best to make him pay double the price and tell him "exactly why you do this."

where at she was an started makin love to ole Will." "Yeah, he was still dere. He unlimbered his razor. When Will seen dat he evermore sole out wid Liza danglin on his neck." "Man, you ain't seen no fight. Dat nigger cut him enough steak to start a dozen hatcher shops." "Um-huh, dats all dat saved dem." When dose cops come, dere wasn't no sign of colored folks no wheres. It was jes like de shadows clearin out at dawn after a stormy night." "Huh?" "He's in jail." "I jes left him at de horspittle." "Only nine stitches." "No, he got stomach ache this mornin." "Naw, I took dat las ten dollars and paid off my fine."

NICE

Ain't it nice when a man
Does all that he can,
With boxes of candy and such,
And she gives him the kick
For some other hick;
Ain't it nice?

Not much.
Ain't it nice when a guy
Starts right out to buy,
Till his pocketbook walks on a crutch,
And she takes all she can
And some other man;
Ain't it nice?

Not much.
Don't a fellow feel nice
When he treats her like ice,
Till she's plum in a serious mind,
And she says, "I'm all set,"
Or "I'll take you, you bet,"
Ain't it nice?

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

- 1st—Red and Black Wildcats came bouncing to the support of Coach Monk. The Trustees decide to reopen Davidson again.
- 3rd—Mason Fields arrived, and immediately all the janitors had to take shelter.
- 7th—All things point to a fine year. The fire of the season was quite a success, though it was not quite late enough in the day to disturb football practice.
- 13th—Bill Joe delivers his usual speech of consolation to the Freshmen, while the upperclassmen enjoyed a comfortable nap. Classes started on time. Archie failed to cut Polit. I. John Simpson decides to drop Polit. I and take up Greek VI.
- 14th—John Bryan honored the campus with a fleeting visit. He and his tutors and valet are on their way to the Univ. of Va.
- 18th—The Fresh deception was committed last night. Shorty Love said it wasn't much of a deception at that. Nobody even looked happy or amused.
- 19th—Dr. Martin requests John D. Laws, Esq., to take charge of the work on the new athletic field today, as he was anxious for it to be ready for use by Davidson Day to help accommodate the 20,000 people who will grace the occasion.

CAMPUS EXPRESSIONS

1. P. O. box empty; 2. Have a cone on me; 3. Exams.; 4. Grits for supper; 5. Shot on class; 6. Soph Day; 7. Prof cuts; 8. Junior Week; 9. Pays annual assessment.

22nd—Nothing more exciting than a football game today, Elon nothing, Davidson 19. The game was played at Cornelius because Richardson Field closely resembled the streets of Venice at that time.

27th—Chapel was conducted in Shearer Hall as usual.

29th—We went to Rock Hill to see the P. C. game and stayed to see the girls. The day and evening were well spent.

OCTOBER

1st—John Bryan visited the campus again. He was moved to tears when he saw some of the places where he spent so many hours during his boyhood days (Miss Minnie's and Long Boy's classroom).

8th—Several important things happened this week. We played V. P. I., I found out who Bailey Groom was, and he found out several things.

13th—Bevo Davis spent a very pleasant and fruitful afternoon hunting butterflies on the athletic field. He seemed slightly annoyed though, when his work was rudely interrupted by the Citadel game. JethroTiddy and Nappy Davis make their debuts as actors, stealing all honors at the Stunt Night performance.

• A NEW SHIN IN FORTY MINUTES

- 15th—Crown Prince opens up a general store (bootlegging a side line) today. He expects to make his first million before graduation.

- 20th—In geology class today Prof. Porter explained that Chicago owed its importance as a great commercial center to the fact that it is equidistant from the surrounding country.

- 27th—Glee Club started on its vamping tour of Southern Educational Institutions yesterday, rendering its first performance at the Huntersville Academy of Fine Arts. Okey Allison is rushed out of town after his solo.

- 29th—Gig Shepherd and 'Lias Faison seem to have introduced pickers with considerable success. What I can't understand is how they got ahead of Richard Hunt McMillan, our Style-Plussissimus.

- 30th—Football field is completed. John Laws notified Dr. Sentelle today of his intention to pay a flying visit to Miami or Mount Mourne to recuperate from his attack of wealth.

NOVEMBER

- 1st—Rube Curdts off Hill. Firm of Curdts, Keels & Gray takes a holiday, to the immense relief of the student body. Crown Prince decides he won't reach his million this year. Shoes made to order for Fields arrive by freight today. Spec McConnell tries lemon juice for his freckles with poor results.

- 8th—Queer things happened last night, judging from the class rooms this morning. Van Sant will have to learn to get on his job earlier the morning after Halloween.

- 12th—Davidson-Armistice Day. It's a good thing most of the student body left the Hill today. Buffalo and Stout at least would surely have been damaged in the throng.

- 13th—Hopkins tells me today that the indiscretion on his upper lip is just a mustache.

- 17th—I saw Ted Jones coming across the campus today hiding behind what looked like a diamond-shaped shield. I thought he must be planning to go in for mediæval duelling, until I got where I could see better, and then I suddenly remembered that he was no longer a bachelor.

- 18th—They tell me Carolina played a pretty good game against our boys yesterday.

- 21st—The Trough is using so much water for dishwashing these days that there's not enough left to shave with, much less bathe in. For the first time since summer Paul Story hasn't had that worried look on his face all day Saturday.

SIMPSON BRINGS DOWN THE HOUSE

26th—The student body picture was taken today. Gig Shepherd, Shorty Love, Bob Mitchell, Nappy Davis, Duke Walthall and other notable athletes were snapped at both ends.

29th—This may have been Turkey Day, but I know that those of us who "walked" to Charlotte to see the game thought it was wild goose day or fish day.

THE COLLEGE MAN

As Described

DECEMBER

As Is

1st—Those of us who saw Allen Hurd in Gallaway's play tonight certainly do agree that he missed his calling. He is a wonderful actor, especially when it comes to acting imbecile parts. He acts so naturally, and with such composure that it is touching.

6th—Nat Faison found himself suddenly famous today.

11th—The Glee Club returned from the Southern tour of conquest today. The very atmosphere of the campus seems changed. Certain members at club, and followers thereof, seem to be treading on air. Gallaway has written six sonnets and a lyric since supper, and Bevo raves frantically and unintelligibly of more trips, and of buying lots and homes.

14th—Bok Kinsey got a haircut.

19th—Leaving for home tomorrow, Bevo says he can't go home, but thinks he'll visit kinfolks in Virginia. Virginians are great on claiming kin, I know, but it looks to me like this is just a little previous. Haven't you?

JANUARY

3rd—Everybody looks mighty worn out today. Christmas must have been a little strenuous. Those who played the hobo are the only ones who look like they think they will survive till harvest. I guess the term will be a success after all, though. Long Boy had the real Christmas spirit. He tried to celebrate any way, by burning his house down. Of course Regen thought he was doing right when he extinguished the blaze heroically, but—

5th—Hudgins and White announced today that they would observe Wednesday afternoon as their at home day, thus affording the faculty an opportunity of visiting them.

7th—The Senior Class met tonight. I'd like to say more about it, but I'm to use my discretion.

9th—Van Sant decided that the wrestling mat needed fumigating. Captain George and Charlie happened around in time to save the gym.

12th—In chapel this morning Bill Joe read about the murmuring of the Children of Israel against Moses in the Wilderness. Wonder where he got the idea.

14th—I went to Billy Sunday's College meeting last night. Okey says he thinks he will get Billy for his chief assistant cheer leader.

20th—John Simpson appeared quite restless in church this morning. He listened attentively to several phases of the sermon. I'm sure he must have forgotten to bring his Whiz Bang.

22nd—I sure do feel sorry for all the Seniors who had to leave college yesterday and today. They don't know what they are missing.

31st—Duke Walthall returns from Savannah a changed man. Ask the Duchess how come.

FEBRUARY

2nd—Exams don't seem to have broken up the basketball team very much.

6th—It seems to me as though Albert Hill-house has been looking mighty worried and nervous lately. Wonder what's wrong?

7th—They tell me that the architect has made plans for the reconstruction of Chambers. I wonder if room No. 13 will be pointed out to future generations as Woodrow Wilson's room?

8th—Billy sure did say one true thing in his sermon this morning when he said that we didn't go to college to learn facts, but to educate our faculty. That's why some of us flunk.

9th—Spring Exodus is getting started off pretty well. I thought something was wrong.

11th—The Book Lovers' Club didn't meet this week.

13th—In Polit. Class this morning Ray Morris asked to be excused from recitation, saying that he had been sick the night before, and Piggy Martin immediately apologized for his preparedness, saying: "I was delirious last night, Doctor, and read my lesson over." Piggy was excused.

14th—Second Spring Exodus seems to be quite a success, too.

15th—Queens Dramatic Club, Orchestra, and Glee Club, performed in Shearer Hall tonight before quite an audience of roughnecks. I didn't know there were so many of them at Davidson. The music was fine. My only criticism of the Frisky Five and Pot Boilers was that the audience were too ignorant. They didn't know when to applaud or when to laugh.

16th—Chipman ranting around like a madman trying to get the annual off to press. It has been said that the annual is to be out on time this year, but I don't see how such a thing can happen when

APLOGIES TO JOHN HELD

JUNIOR WEEK IN THREE HEART-RENDING ACTS

John Simpson averaged 94¼ last term, and Bill Heston stayed awake during the entire Psychology class this morning (it was dismissed thirty minutes early). I am fully prepared to believe anything. I don't though.

22nd—Cherry pie in commemoration of the chopping, and brutal destruction of the cherry tree many years ago. Vic Brown swallows a stone and fears that from now on he will have to be truthful.

29th—Leap Year letters pour in, but Uncle Bud advises to look twice before you leap and then put such thoughts out of mind.

MARCH

1st—Air pressure water sytem working good with more air than H2O. Usual week-end activities in the shower room. Our slogan, Blow it off instead of wash it off, saves getting wet.

15th—Mr. Helper disgruntled on account of spring cleaning coming in. Fresh Lincoln receives a mysterious garment back in his wash. He says its a came—something. Probably he means camisole.

31st—Cap'n Billy and Stout Montgomery hold session into wee small hours. Brass excuses Stout from classes next day on account of too much mental fatigue.

APRIL

1st—Mr. Van Sant turns off heat in radiators, and umbrella tree sees spring course in moonlight classes begin.

11th—"Gripe" McClain gets nervous on class, and Archie inquires whether or not his mind is occupied with radio or worried because his Ford won't start.

19th—Co-educational seasons ends. "House-Cat" Oeland heaves sigh of relief and upbraids Dick McMillan for causing so much comment from the troublesome sex.

26th—Boys that hoboed to various parts of the country come in several days late. Ted Jones tells of trouble in avoiding police and decides to abandon his convict sweater in order to make further meetings with officers less embarrassing.

MAY

1st—Spring fever in full force. Brass combats it by refusing to excuse sufferers from classes.

Back Home and Broke

- 15th—Another well or so goes dry, and "Speedy" Carr is unable to get the right proportion of axle grease and water to get his hair in shape for Commencement.
- 24th—Seniors in great trepidation. Hollingsworth makes great spurt as he nears the end of his sixth term of Fresh Greek.

JUNE

- 2nd—Moonlight classes end after period of intensive training. Chipman journeys back to Winston-Salem with all kinds of degrees. College closes to allow water tank to fill for use in following fall.

Here lie the bones
Of Dead-shot Jones,
A bad man from the West.
His greatest joy—
To see a boy,

And where he'll wear,
For lack of air,

To the Students:

Haven't you often heard it said, "You can do anything you want to, if only you want to hard enough"?

There's a difference between wanting something and determining to have it.

How many there are who want to be wealthy but how few who are determined to be so. The trouble is most people who want to be millionaires are equally desirous of having as much fun as they can without too much work or self-denial.

Those who spend freely usually end chained to their work. Those who save regularly win final freedom.

Choose now the thing which you're determined to possess--something big enough to be worthy of your best effort. Then keep a special account growing steadily at this bank until your purpose is realized.

Cordially yours,

J. H. LITTLE,
President.

Advantages of the Louisville Seminary

An Exceptional Faculty

Dr. William Ray Dobyns, of the Highland Presbyterian Church, of Birmingham, Ala., says:

"Of all the theological institutions in America I sincerely believe that the Louisville Seminary is the best equipped for the sort of education that the times demand. As to the Faculty, I challenge comparison with any similar institution anywhere. The men are experts in their departments, practical in their knowledge and instruction, and eminent in their service to the cause of Christ. The recent addition of the Department of Church Efficiency sets the Seminary a little forward afire in the theological column."

Neighboring Institutions

Together with the advantages of the Seminary itself our students have all the opportunities that go with the University of Louisville, the great Baptist Theological Seminary, the central city Y. M. C. A., and the city Library, all within five minutes' walk from the Seminary.

A Practical Clinic

Louisville is the largest Presbyterian center in the South; with the advantages of work and inspiration to our students of all the great Presbyterian churches of three denominations.

Delightful Home Life

Our students are under the care of our indefatigable and self-sacrificing matron, Miss Emily H. Sudduth, who takes an interest in them akin to the parental solicitude of a home. Further, all the best homes in the city are open to our young men and they receive frequent and abundant welcome to the best Christian social life of the city.

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN THERE

Tell me, my dear, have you ever been out
With a guy with that college bred air,
The guy with the tortoise-shell glasses and cane,

And the glue on his plastered back hair,
The guy who spouts Milton's and Tennyson's stuff

With inflections aesthetic and rare.
While he toys with his handkerchief up in his cuff,

Oh girls—have you ever been there?

Your heart may be set on a gay little dance,
But the prune takes you out for a walk,
For dances, he's found, are positive death
Of all intellectual talk.

Or you long for a ripping good musical show
With laughter to drive away care
And he takes you to something by Shakespeare, you know

Oh girls—have you ever been there?

Then home in the moonlight he walks by your side,

Talking Botany, Civics and Greek,
And your heart goes alonging for rugged old
Jim

Who knew much better pieces to speak,
And you stop at the gate where there isn't much light

And romance fills the soft balmy air,
And the boob lifts his hat

And says simply "Good night,"
Oh girls—have you ever been there?

—Lord Jeff.

STOP AND THINK!

"What sort of a town would your town be if SIX OUT OF EVERY SEVEN FAMILIES bought their groceries, dry goods, shoes, hardware, drugs, etc., by mail order from the outside?"

Out of Every Seven Dollars Paid for Life Insurance by the people of the South only one dollar goes to Southern Insurance Companies.

LEAVING OUT SENTIMENT—IS THIS GOOD BUSINESS JUDGMENT?

The slogan of English business today, is "England for England."

It finds its echo in "American for America."

What is the matter with "The South for the South?"

"Buy Insurance from Southern Companies" is not isolation and it is not selfishness.

The farmer who buys from his neighbor only what he can not raise himself is not selfish; he has just got horse sense.

There is a near old codger who squeezes the pennies so tight that he pinches about ten years off the dates. He had been living with his third wife and a housekeeper until a recent morning. On that occasion, he awoke just before breakfast to find his spouse dead.

"Mrs. MacKenzie," he shouted in alarm to the housekeeper.

"Wha's you wull?" the housekeeper responded.

"Don't cook two eggs for breakfast," the bereaved husband said. "One will do this morning."

The runaway horse dashed through the woods with the screaming girl on its back. Bushes tore at her clothes, and briars stripped them to shreds. Soon even the shreds were gone. "Oh," shrieked the girl, "I'll never ride again. I've lost my riding habit."

Columbia Theological Seminary

Columbia, S. C.

JOHN M. WELLS, President

I.

COLUMBIA SEMINARY is owned and controlled by the Synod's of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida. It has a constituency of about 100,000 communicants. When the Seminary was organized in 1828 there were scarcely 6,000. The Seminary has continued its existence through all these years, and has done a great work for the Church, sending out some 1,200 ministers.

II.

Columbia Seminary is continuing her useful work. She has a competent Faculty of eight men of conservative faith, sound learning, and practical knowledge of Church work. Its student body consists of sixty-three fine, active young men, coming from various parts of the United States. The demand for the services of these young men is growing every year and, so far, it is impossible to meet all the calls that come. Not only are the Seniors engaged, but during the summer every student in the Seminary goes out into some form of practical religious work.

III.

The future of the Seminary is hopeful. At present there are plans on foot for increasing its endowment and improving its equipment. The people are being aroused as to the importance of theological education, and are rallying to the call for adequate support.

IV.

The location of the Seminary from almost every standpoint is ideal. The climate is comfortable and healthful. Columbia is a city of schools and college. The University offers great opportunities to the energetic student for educational courses, many of our students gaining their Master's degree while attaining their Bachelor of Arts degree at the Seminary.

V.

All ministerial students are welcomed, and this Seminary gives the usual financial assistance to worthy young men as is offered by the other Seminaries of our Church.
